City and County Ready To Celebrate July 4th

Business To Suspend for Holiday, Theaters Arrange Attractive Programs, Two Villages Plan Programs.

As preparation for Fourth of July activities neared completion in Marion city and in the rural communities of the county today indications were that the observance of American independence day will be along the safe and sane lines that have been followed here the last several years.

While no public fireworks display have been announced here the large number of stands in the vicinity selling fire crackers may be taken as a hint that residents will be awakened bright and early Saturday morning by the din let loose by the crackers and toy torpedoes.

Virtually all business will be suspended in Marion Saturday. Banks and city and county offices will be closed and there will be no regular mail deliveries. Postoffice windows will not be open. There will be no Fourth of July edition of The Star.

The weather man was not exactly optimistic in his forecast for July 4 weather. Mostly cloudy tonight and Saturday is the forecast of the federal weather bureau at Columbus. Showers also are predicted to continue adding further to the rainfall of 22 hundredths of an inch here last night.

Those remaining in the city the Fourth who will be seeking entertainment will have a choice of movies, a dance and sporting events including automobile races. At Prospect the celebration will center around the dedication of the new $14 000 athletic field. At Caledonia a parade, fireworks contests and free entertainment will be the attraction and at LaRue a band concert and ice cream social will hold the attention of the stay at homes.

Theater Programs

A variety of entertainment is on tap in Marion's theaters for the moviegoing celebrants. The Palace is showing Sutter's Gold epic of the first California gold rush starring Edward Arnold and featuring the fast talking Lee Tracy, Binnie Barnes and Katharine Alexander.

The cracking of Maxie Schmeling's right glove against Joe Louis' jaw in the official fight pictures of the recent heavyweight scrap between the German Uhlan and the Black Bomber from Detroit appears to be particularly well suited to a Fourth of July film program. The fight pictures will be shown at the Ohio theater five times Saturday in conjunction with the feature picture Going Highbrow starring Edward Everett Horton, Guy Kibbee and Zasu Pitts.

Exclusive Story, a yarn of newspapering and racketeering along the canyons of Broadway featuring Franchot Tone and Stuart Erwin tops the holiday bill at the Marion theater. On the same program is a Hopalong Cassidy western Three on the Trail starring William Boyd and the fourth chapter of the new Tom Mix serial The Miracle Rider.

The State theater's bill for the Fourth headlines The Drag Net, a story of war between gangdom and the law with Rod La Rocque and Marian Nixon in the leads. The other features are a John Wayne western The Oregon

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH O July 3 — A grand jury investigating violence at the strike closed Wheeling Steel Corp plant ordered today the Scioto county courthouse and streets in its vicinity cleared of strike pickets.

Verdict of Guilty Returned Against Charles Orewiler in Vote Fraud Case

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY July 3— Charles Orewiler of Sycamore was found guilty of fraudulently changing ballots in the May primary by common pleas court jury here last night. Judge Russell H Kear deferred sentence until today.

The case went to the jury at 6 30 p m and a verdict was returned at 8 30 p m.

Mr Orewiler testified that he had altercation with W E Baugher presiding judge of Sycamore township where the alleged marking of Democratic tickets took place.

As Mr Orewiler testified that he had been knocked out by Baugher in some trouble that had developed prior to the indictment charge he is now facing the defense sought to produce evidence that the alleged marking might have been done by some one else. He also declared that he and Baugher had not been on speaking terms since their altercation. He stated that he had previously held the office of Democratic central committeeman from Sycamore and that in previous elections he had for his opponent Charles F Riedel who the indictment charges lost the office through Orewiler's fraudulently marking of the ballots. He testified that he received no money in connection with the office.

It was also brought out that the ballot boxes were not locked and that any one could have opened them. Other witnesses called to the stand included Charles Frederick, cashier of the First National bank here, McLeod Brown county commissioner, M A Ward and Mrs Frank Orewiler who all testified as to Orewiler's character and reputation. The defense rested at 3 25 p m Thursday.

The defense counsel indicated it would ask for a new trial. The conviction carries a one to three year sentence and a $100 to $1,000 fine.

VIRGINIA HEARS ROOSEVELT AT NATIONAL PARK

President Lauds Conservation Work of CCC at Dedicatory Rites in Shenandoah

REFERS TO END OF WASTE

Declares Idleness of Thousands of Youths Ended with Start of Federal Agency

By The Associated Press

BIG MEADOWS Va July 3— Describing the Shenandoah National park as part of a program of the joint husbandry of our human resources and our natural resources President Roosevelt dedicated today the 180 000 acre tract amid the peaks of the Blue Ridge.

From a stand in a natural amphitheater 3,000 feet above sea level the chief executive reviewed the work of the civilian conservation corps in developing the huge tract and declared:

In bygone years we have seen the terrible tragedy of our age— the tragedy of waste. Waste of our people, waste of our land. It was neither the will nor the destiny of our nation that this waste of human and material resources should continue. That was the compelling reason that led us to put our idle people to the task of ending the waste of our land.

Asserting the involuntary idleness of thousands of young men ended three years ago when they came here to the camps the chief executive declared:

Our country will need many other young men as they come to manhood for work like this — for other Shenandoahs.

"It is a dream—will I perhaps be accused of an exaggerated passion for planning if I paint for you a picture? You who are here know of the great usefulness to humanity which this skyline drive achieves from now on, of the greater usefulness which its extension south through Virginia and North Carolina to the Big Smoky National park will achieve.

In almost every other part of the country there is a similar need for recreational areas, for parkways which will give to men and women of moderate means the opportunity, the invigoration and the luxury of touring and camping amid scenes of great natural beauty.

From Secretary Ickes came an expression of hope that federal money would be provided for establishing national parks in the east comparable to those in the west.

After a friendly reference to former President Herbert Hoover for adding his Rapidan camp to the Shenandoah park acreage, Ickes recalled that the federal policy of requiring donations of almost all the land for new

HELEN HAYES BALM SUIT SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Agreement To Dismiss Charges Reached at Conference of Critic, Actress and Attorneys.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 3—An agreement to dismiss the $100,000 alienations of affections suit brought against Actress Helen Hayes second wife of Playwright Charles MacArthur, by his first wife drama critic Carol Frink was reported today during a noon recess of county court.

Lawyers earlier had denied an offer to settle the case, but a noon conference between Miss Hayes and MacArthur and their lawyer, Jay Frederick Reeves, was reported to have settled disputed points.

The offer for settlement was reported to have been made by Miss Frink's counsel, Sam Golan, who asserted his client didn't want a cent of damages but merely 'an opportunity to tell her story.

Miss Frink of Chicago charged that the petite star of stage and screen stole the love of Charles MacArthur, noted playwright, who married the dramatic critic in 1920 when both were reporters on a Chicago newspaper. They were divorced in 1926, and two years later MacArthur married Miss Hayes.

Miss Frink brought the courtroom crowd forward in the chairs by declaring under cross examination that she loved MacArthur until yesterday, when he took the stand

DRIVE MAY END RIFT IN A. F. L.

Informed Sources Expect To See Compromise Between Lewis and Green Factions

MEMBERS DEMAND UNITY

Leaders of Both Sides Cease Verbal Attacks Against Each Other

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 3 — Informed sources expressed the opinion today that bitter conflict within the American Federation of Labor may be ended and the rift welded in the heat of a campaign now getting under way to unionize the vast steel and iron industry.

These sources would not be surprised if some sort of compromise bargain were struck between John L Lewis head of the unionization drive and ardent advocate of industrial unionization and the dominant A F of L faction which leans toward craft unions.

Sentiment within the A F of L unions to cease internal quarrels and present a united front against the embattled steel employers was said to be impelling the rival factions in the direction of a settlement of differences.

Green Halts Attack

Whether a settlement will in fact take place is not expected to be known for some days at least. However it was noted that in the last several days the craft unionists headed by President William Green of the A F of L have hurled no more verbal thunderbolts at Lewis committee for industrial organization.

Lewis also refrained from his customary castigation of the Green faction in a statement he issued yesterday after a meeting of his committee. He confined himself to attacking the declaration of the employers issued through the American Iron and Steel institute that the Lewis drive would be marked by agitation for industrial strife and strikes.

If any strife materialized Lewis said it would be due solely to the provocative policy of the corporations engaged in the steel industry.'

It is not the committee's purpose to bring about a strike in the steel industry. The committee desires to avoid industrial strife and disturbance or violence of any character the statement said.

Lewis indicated that his affiliated unions would disregard a summons to appear before the A F of L executive council next week to answer charges that their drive was detrimental to A F of L welfare.

Whether the quarrel could be patched up before that council meeting was not indicated.

The Lewis committee yesterday voted to accept the United Automobile Workers and the United Rubber Workers into membership and help them with organization campaigns.

As for the steel drive, the committee decided to hold rallies at Chicago and Homestead, Pa., Sunday and in Cleveland Tuesday.

Rain and Government Aid Cheer Victims of Drouth Ravaged Farming Sections

DAIRIES REJECT MILK INCREASE

Tell Producers They Can't Pay More and Keep Retail Price at Present Scale

ANOTHER MEETING CALLED

Farmers Will Consider Formation of Co Op To Sell Direct to Consumers

The increase in wholesale milk prices sought by members of the Marion County Milk Producers association was turned down by local dairies last night at a meeting of members of the board of directors of the association and representatives of the dairies in the county commissioners office.

The milk producers of the county proposed that the dairies grant them an increase of 10 cents a hundred pounds over the amount they are now receiving for their milk, Leo [illegible] Cusic president of the association said today.

The dairymen contended he said that they could not pay the increase and continue to make money on their milk if they kept the retail price at the present scale. Mr Cusic said the producers are of the opinion that they are not receiving enough money for their milk under present conditions and that the dairies could still make a reasonable return on their investment by granting the increase and still not jump the retail prices.

Nothing Definite

As far as anything definite is concerned we failed to accomplish anything at last night's meeting the association's president said. The board of directors will hold another meeting Tuesday night in the commissioners' office and it is expected that the proposed increase will come in for further discussion and possibly definite action will be taken to obtain it.

Fred W Isaler of near Prospect secretary and treasurer of the Ohio Milk Producers federation in Columbus was to have been present last night to give a report on a plan the federation is working out for this county that would enable producers to establish a milk cooperative whereby members of the association would sell direct to the consumers in competition with the dairies. Complete details of the plan have not been worked out and Mr Isaler was not present. It is possible he will appear before the board of directors at their Tuesday night meeting Mr Cusic said.

Cite Feed Costs

Producers in this county explain that they are seeking an increase in the wholesale price of milk because they are compelled to use winter and commercial feeds for their cattle due to drouth damage to pasture lands. The cost of these feeds is rapidly becoming prohibitive they say.

Members of the board of directors of the producers association present last night were Mr Cusic, J H Wolfelngel, John Barkley, Carl Hinterleiter, Paul Lawrence and Millard Talbott. Dairymen present were J F Parish of the Parish Dairy, H B Kennedy of the Moores & Ross Milk Co, H W Zachman of the Zachman Dairy, D L Montgomery of the Ideal Dairy and H A Hosler and O B Hosler of the Hosler Dairy.

FIREWORKS MISHAPS INJURIOUS TO FOUR

Two Boys and Two Men Hurt in Explosions Despite Bans in Several Cities.

By The Associated Press

Two boys and two men were recovering today from three fireworks accidents in Ohio as Akron police took steps to enforce the city's anti fireworks ordinance.

The men were injured last night near Wooster when a small cannon for the Fourth of July celebration exploded as Herbert King was filling it with powder taken from giant firecrackers. King received serious burns on his face and hands. Frank Schaffter, a companion was injured on the leg.

Physicians feared Donald Shoub 10, would lose two fingers after a cannon cracker exploded as he sought to throw it from him. The accident occurred a few hours after legal sale of fireworks opened at Wellsville.

Bert Jones, 8 of Lakewood, received scorched fingers and a burned chin when he stood too near an exploding firecracker.

Akron police late yesterday raided a warehouse stocked with fireworks which they valued at $5,000 in an attempt to enforce a fireworks ban. The dealer, H L Rabb, 40, was fined $25 and costs

By The Associated Press

DULUTH Minn July 3 Relief in the form of rain and a three fold program of government aid cheered residents of drouth ravaged agricultural sections of the nation today.

Showers fell in southern states and in the Great Lakes region. In many cases they meant the difference between a fair crop and none at all.

Precipitation was forecast for the parched upper Mississippi valley. But there was no moisture to soften the hardpan prairies of Minnesota and the Dakotas focal points in a wide spread $[illegible]50 000 000 drouth.

To Buy Million Head

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace authorized federal purchase and processing of up to 1 000 000 head of distressed cattle in north central states. Even as he took the action here yesterday, livestock was being shipped from parched pastures in the northwest by the trainload. The movement at some centers equalled that of disastrous 1934.

At Washington officials indicated $5 000 000 would be used in removing cattle from [illegible] ranges in a joint undertaking by the AAA and the Federal Surplus Commodities Corp. The meat products will be donated to state relief agencies for distribution. It was indicated extensive buying would not be necessary if drenching rains occur in the next fortnight.

Works progress administrators in Minnesota the Dakotas Montana and Wyoming completed plans for construction of farm to market roads and water conserving dams. They hoped to put the first contingent of an army of 50 000 cropless farmers to work in several days.

Committee at Work

In the national capital President Roosevelt's special drouth committee shaped a general assistance program. Reports to the resettlement administration indicated 100 000 farm families would need aid.

World wide alarm over the situation precipitated a buying stampede on both sides of the Atlantic yesterday. High price records for the season were shattered on the Chicago market by every grain on the list. Today the market receded and wheat's sky ride lifted it past the long sought 'dollar a bushel' level. Its five cent advance at Chicago was halted by exchange rules forbidding a bulge of more FREEDOM! Throughout the life of our nation it has characterized the hope the desire and the force behind each forward step. Freedom has motivated the growth controlled the expansion and marked the development of our government and our people. To the other nations of the world it has become the trait to be desired above all else and its virtues have been embodied in the country that we now enjoy.

But freedom can not exist without responsibility and with us that responsibility must continue to rest with the individual. Concerted action of individuals made it possible, concerted action of individuals must retain it. On this the one hundred and sixtieth anniversary of the birth of the world's first free nation we must acknowledge this responsibility and in acknowledging it pledge continued support and allegiance to it.

CZECH SHOOTS SELF IN GENEVA

Reporter at League Assembly Shouts "This Is the End" and Fires Two Bullets.

By The Associated Press

GENEVA, July 3—A Czechoslovakian newspaper reporter photographer interrupted the League of Nations assembly session today to shout "This is the end" and shoot himself.

Fears that there had been an attempt to assassinate delegates swept through the assembly. The statesmen gathered in the hall jumped to their feet. Many of them shouted.

The man who was shot was Stefan Lux, a representative of Prague newspapers.

Points to German Jews

Lux, a Jew, left a letter saying he wished by his act to draw world attention to the situation of the Jews in Germany.

He was sitting in the gallery adjoining the main benches of the delegates. Suddenly he arose and cried out in his own language "This is the end!" It is [illegible]

He pulled out a revolver and shot himself twice in the chest. When the resulting uproar had partially died away Dr. Augusto Vasconcellos of Portugal, former president of the assembly and a distinguished physician, administered first aid to Lux.

The newspaperman said feebly "My brief case."

League officials opened the brief case after Lux had been taken to a hospital. In it they found letters addressed to King Edward, Anthony Eden, the British foreign secretary, and to J. A. C. Avenol, secretary general of the league.

Apologizes for Trouble

In the letter to Avenol, Lux presented excuses for the trouble he was causing.

Premier Paul Van Zeeland of Belgium, president of the assembly, expressed regrets for the incident, then said: "Gentlemen, let us continue."

(The shooting marks the second incident during the current session to shatter the dignity of a league meeting.

(Delegates were thrown into an uproar Wednesday when eight Italian newspapermen cursed and booed Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia as he arose to make a plea for his country. The newspapermen were later expelled from Switzerland after charges of "creating a scandal" were preferred by Swiss police.)

CITY, COUNTY READY TO CELEBRATE FOURTH

Trail," and a Major Bowes amateurs short.

Patrons of Crystal Lake ballroom Saturday night will dance to the music of Sammy Schwaderer and his band. The swimming pool at the lake is expected to draw its usual holiday quota of water enthusiasts.

Auto Races

A program of speed and roaring motors on Marion's half-mile dirt track has been arranged for automobile racing followers at the fairgrounds. A large list of entries, including some of the best dirt track drivers in the game, will compete in three preliminary events of five miles each, with winners qualifying for the 30-lap feature race. The speed merchants will begin their program at 2:30 p. m. Time trials, interesting to many, are set to start shortly before noon. As an added attraction midget autos, five feet long, will compete in a four-lap event.

Baseball will have its place in the holiday sun Saturday, with a double-header between the Marion Colored Independents and a Bellefontaine colored nine scheduled for Lincoln park. The Marion Independents will travel to Idlewild park, Kenton, that day to meet the Kenton Red Sox.

The program arranged for dedication of the Prospect athletic field, which was built with federal funds, will include a track meet open to all, a single horseshoe tournament and a softball game. The horseshoe tossers (any one may compete) will do their stuff in the afternoon following a basket lunch served by the Prospect Parent Teachers' association. The softball tilt, between two unannounced teams, will close the day. Track events will start at 9:15 a. m. and continue throughout the day. Paul Keller, Prospect school coach, heads the committee in charge of the celebration.

Caledonia Program

Holiday activities at Caledonia will get under way at 1 p. m., with a parade inaugurating the program. Contests and races will follow at 3 p. m. and between 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening a dinner and band music is scheduled. Dance contests and a mardi gras are set for 8 o'clock, with free entertainment coming on at 9. John Brown, John Iden and Mrs. John Jelliffe are in charge of the program.

A band concert and an ice cream social are the only public events awaiting LaRue residents Saturday.

National guardsmen of Co. D, 166th Infantry, will get a taste of camping routine on the Fourth when they pitch their tenth at Camp Argonne, east of Waldo, for a week-end training period in preparation for the two weeks they'll spend at Camp Knox, Ky., in August. The guardsmen will mobilize at 8 a. m. and are expected to be at the camp an hour later. Machine gun practice, gun drill, formation practice, marksmanship, close order and extended order drill, chemical warfare, pack rolling and shelter tent pitching are on their program. Capt. H. L. Taylor, commanding officer of Co. D, will be in charge. He has invited the public to visit the Company during its two-day encampment.

It's a safe bet that out-of-town attractions—baseball games, fishing, motoring, sight-seeing and the lake resorts—will lure many city and county residents.

COAT IN MAGIC ACT

Garment Missing from Parked Car Reappears

It might have been the warm weather that discouraged a thief from keeping a coat taken from a car parked in the city [illegible] yesterday afternoon. The coat was discovered missing at 1:30 o'clock when its owner, Miss Velma Kisner of 524 South Vine street, went to the car after a shopping tour uptown she reported to police. The car had been unlocked and when she went back several hours later the coat had been returned.

Qualifying time trials will begin at 10 a. m., and the first of three five-mile elimination events will start at 2:30 p. m. The three winners in each of the five-mile events will be entered in the grand final 15-mile competition.

ROOSEVELT TALKS AT PARK CEREMONY

national parks made it especially difficult to establish them in the east.

"I can see the danger of a policy of appropriating money for the purchase of lands," he said. "Once the government began to do this there would be enormous pressure from every state in the union for the establishment of at least one park.

"We want no 'pork barrel' recreation policy, no national parks that are log-rolled through the halls of congress. Yet we require more parks if we are wisely to anticipate future needs and surely there is enough statesmanship in the country to set up safeguards against reckless or improvident expenditures.

"Certainly, there ought to be more national parks east of the Mississippi river. Here are areas of the greatest congestion; here live millions of citizens who particularly would be benefited by the opportunities that our parks furnish. But here, by the same token the greatest difficulties to the establishment of parks present themselves.

All Owned Privately

"Practically all of the land is in private ownership, the extinguishment of which would be expensive, and many sections, which 50 or 100 years ago would have qualified for designation as national parks, as the result of private exploitation can no longer claim that rating."

Out of the only federal fund for park acquisition, a $790,300 PWA allotment, Ickes said the building of the parkway connecting Shenandoah and Great Smoky Mountains parks had been begun.

After the addresses Mr. Roosevelt planned to go to Charlottesville, where he will spend the night in a former slave's house which now is a part of the Farmington Country club, on a hill commanding a broad review of the Blue Ridge.

He will proceed tomorrow along a winding road past Patrick Henry's early home, to Monticello, the home Thomas Jefferson spent much of his life-time building and rebuilding. There he will deliver his Independence day address.

To Sail Down James

At Richmond, the President will board the yacht, Potomac, for a cruise down the James river to Jamestown, where he will anchor for the night. Early Sunday he will inspect the Jamestown burying ground where a number of "first Americans" are buried and then will visit the battlefield at Yorktown and Williamsburg, the colonial capital of Virginia which has been restored by the Rockefellers to its original condition.

At the old Ruxton church, a worshipping place of the Washingtons, the Pages, the Lees and many other famous Virginia families, the President will attend church. Again boarding the Potomac he will return to Washington Monday.

HUGE CHORUS TO BE HEARD SUNDAY

Plans have been completed for the broadcast Sunday, over a coast-to-coast Columbia network, of the largest chorus ever heard on the air.

The program which goes on the air at 9:30 Sunday night, will feature the voices of 50,000 Detroiters gathered at Belle Isle in that city. With the cooperation of the Detroit symphony orchestra and 50,000 kazoos the multitude will sing such old time favorites as "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," "Sidewalks of New York," "Frivolous Sal" and others.

As an observance of the centenary of the song, "Annie Laurie" Miss Willie Morris will sing the tune on the Fireside Recital program over WTAM and NBC Red network at 6:30 Sunday evening.

of the hotel, told officials the woman he identified from a picture as Mrs. Freed had called earlier to see some apartments. After inspecting several, he added, she got off the elevator at the seventh floor, saying she would call on Annabelle Blake—the name under which Miss Vallette had registered.

Back at his desk, Knox answered a house call at the switchboard. He heard Miss Vallette gasp "Help! I've been shot."

Hotel attendants said the brunet caller hurried down to the street and raced off in a maroon car. The license number, Barry disclosed, was traced to Mrs. Freed's husband.

Lieut. Otto Erlanson reported Mrs. Freed had entered the "Nut House" some time after one o'clock, removed her pictures from the wall and departed with her husband.

HELEN HAYES AND HUSBAND IN COURT

ACTRESS' BALM SUIT ENDS OUT OF COURT

as a witness for Miss Hayes.

"I can't believe that he isn't still fond of me," the blond dramatic critic told Miss Hayes' attorney.

Her attorney rivalled her for the headlines with an announcement, during recess, that Miss Frink "doesn't want a cent" in her $100,000 suit.

"She just wants a chance to tell her story," Golan declared.

"That will make sense before this trial is over."

At the opening of the session Attorney Golan asked Miss Frink, a $100 a week movie and stage reviewer for the Chicago Herald Examiner, whether Miss Hayes' performances came under her professional scrutiny.

Q. Do you have occasion to review her plays?

A. Yes.

Q. How did you treat them?

A. With the praise they deserved.

Q. Did you review her movies?

A. All except one—when I was on vacation.

Q. What did you think about them?

A. I thought she was very good—one of the best.

Q. Did you say so, in your column?

A. Yes.

Spectators chuckled frequently when Miss Frink detailed her romance with MacArthur.

She said they met at a city room water cooler and became enamored under the stars at an outdoor opera.

"Suddenly," she added, "he grabbed hold of me, swung me around, stepped on my feet, kissed me on the nose and said he loved me."

Later, the plaintiff continued, MacArthur proposed: "Take a chance and marry me."

"What did you say?" queried her attorney, Sam Golan.

"I said 'this is so sudden'," was the response.

The marriage was performed in 1920 by MacArthur's minister father, Miss Frink said, "because Charlie said we could save a few dollars that way."

Author Warns Her

The author warned her, she testified, with

"I'll probably be hard to domesticate for I'm a genius."

She testified that subsequently: He spent a period "lying on the beach, getting healthy" at Los Angeles while she worked to pay the bills.

He was so "sensitive to environment" that he once moved from a flat because the "bed was too short for his feet."

During a three day train trip to the west coast MacArthur "went out at meal time and got something to eat and brought me back an orange."

They subsisted two days on hard rolls and sugar in a New York hotel when their credit was exhausted.

She paced the streets so she wouldn't hamper his play writing efforts in 1923.

Celebrate in Hotel

Then Miss Frink told of their second anniversary celebration in a hotel at Hartford, Conn.

"Charlie turned on the bath water and forgot it," she said. "When we came back the room was flooded. That put him in a bad mood. He struck me. I stumbled and fell between the twin beds. He picked me up and said 'Aw, honey, I didn't mean to do that. Now you hit me!'"

She demanded to know then, the plaintiff went on, "When are you going to get my mother's diamond ring out of hock?"

MacArthur apparently enjoyed much of the proceedings.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 3 — The new deal temporarily shelved the question of Postmaster General James A. Farley's resignation from the cabinet today, while concentrating on perfecting plans for a whirlwind $2,000,000 campaign to reelect President Roosevelt.

When "'Big Jim,' commander-in-chief of the Democratic campaign forces, emerged late yesterday from a three-hour conference with President Roosevelt, reporters crowded around him, pencils poised. They expected to take down Farley's farewell to the postoffice department and an announcement that he would devote his full time to his task as Democratic national chairman.

But Farley quickly informed them that there was no announcement about the resignation. He said the subject did not even come up in the conference.

Judge Awards Marion Woman Divorce and Custody of Minor Child.

Mrs. Bernice Sekinger of Marion who several weeks ago made an unsuccessful effort to obtain custody of her six-year-old daughter by filing habeas corpus proceedings in common pleas court here has been granted a divorce and custody of the child in common pleas court at Columbus.

She won the divorce on a cross petition to a suit filed against her a year and a half ago by George Sekinger, who withdrew his petition shortly before the case was to be tried. The decree was granted Wednesday giving Mrs. Sekinger the divorce on the ground of neglect and awarding her $10 a month for the support of the child. Sekinger was given visitation rights and the right to have custody of the child for brief occasional periods.

Mrs. Sekinger was represented by the Marion law firm of Wilhelm & Robinson. Sekinger, formerly of Marion and now of Columbus, was represented by C. W. Mahn of Columbus.

G. O. P. SEEKING OHIO MANAGER

Schorr Opposes Coshocton Man Approved by Leader of Landon Campaign.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 3—Who will manage the Republican campaign in Ohio is the only question still unsettled today as the state convention became history.

After word spread that State Chairman Ed D. Schorr opposed placing Charles R. Frederickson of Coshocton in general charge of the election fight, a proposal to appoint a campaign committee headed by Schorr himself gained strength. The committee would be composed of personal representatives of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, presidential candidate, and Atty. Gen. John W. Bricker, seeking the governorship.

Some leaders said that while nothing definite had been decided upon, this proposal had the best chance of approval.

There was still considerable sentiment however, for giving the job to Frederickson, second choice for president of the "favorite son" delegates to the national convention and reliably reported as Landon's personal choice because of mutual Kansas connections. The state executive committee may have to meet on the question.

John D. M. Hamilton, new national chairman, conferred with Frederickson on the proposition, it was learned authoritatively, but agreed to accept any one agreeable to all Ohio interests. All sources indicated that a generally satisfactory arrangement would be worked out.

Schorr's opposition to appointing Frederickson was understood to be on the grounds that the state executive committee would not receive proper consideration.

Dale Dunifon, first assistant attorney general, was considered certain to look after Bricker's interests specifically. He directed Bricker's pre-primary campaign and has headed all activity for Bricker since.

SESSION OF SCHOOL BOARD SET TONIGHT

The county board of education is expected to meet tonight at 7:30 at its office on West [illegible] street to continue discussion of the feasibility of a poll of electors in rural districts where residents signed remonstrances against the board's program to consolidate school districts.

The poll would make it possible to determine definitely whether the signatures on remonstrances represent the 51 per cent of residents of the affected areas required to make the remonstrances effective.

D. T. Mills, county superintendent of schools, today said there was some doubt that the meeting would be held, but Dr. J. M. R[illegible], [illegible]man of LaRue, one of the members, said at noon the meeting is to be held so far as he knew.

Edgar denied he objected to his wife's appearing with Buddy Rogers orchestra in Denver and said he gave her permission.

Recounting how he became tired of waiting for his wife on a March night at a fashionable ocean front hotel Edgar said he went for a stroll about the grounds.

"I heard a voice that resembled hers," he said, "came from a corner of the building. The window was half open. I looked in. I was amazed to see her and another man."

He said the man was Mallory.

Taken Away

Then he testified: "I was grabbed by the arm and forcibly taken away."

William Holsrack, night watchman who was an earlier witness, said he took Edgar from the window.

On one occasion Edgar said he found in his wife's handbag a note reading:

"Darling, never forget I have loved you all there is and never forget I still love you all there is. Lew."

He said he allowed his wife $100 a month for personal and household expenses. He said he bought her a $7,500 mink coat last December.

Mallory, who preceded Edgar on the stand, was called in a surprise move by the young manufacturer's attorneys.

He told the six man jury that $1,250,000 he inherited upon becoming of age in October 1934 had shrunk to $130,000.

Efforts of his attorneys to prevent testimony regarding his wealth was overruled by Circuit Judge W. W. Trammell, who said he must answer questions he could of his own knowledge.

TEACHERS VOTE FOR PACIFISM

Oppose Military Drills in School and Ask Removal of Ban Against Communism

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND, Ore., July 3—[illegible] opposition [illegible] compulsory military training in public schools was voiced yesterday by the National Education association in convention here.

The educators adopted the report of a resolutions committee which opposed war [illegible] training and [illegible] of danger to the fundamental principles of democracy in academic restrictions.

The report urged repeal of the congressional [illegible] against the teaching of communism in the District of Columbia schools and sought full support of the tenure of position for teachers.

The educators pledged support of a congressional measure which would provide a maximum of $300,000,000 annually in federal funds to aid education and recommended a permanent federal division for youth education.

In their opposition against compulsory military training the educators did not go so far as the resolutions committee had recommended. A phrase calling attention to the tendency to militarize schools and colleges through increasing support and expansion of the Reserve Officers Training Corps was stricken from the original resolution before adoption.

Last night the educators listened to a three sided political debate participated in by Democratic Governor Paul V. McNutt of Indiana, former Representative Burton L. French of Idaho, a Republican, and Norman Thomas, Socialist presidential candidate.

"The Democratic platform does not retreat," said McNutt. "It does not make reckless promises."

The Republican party, French argued, regards the Constitution as the great bulwark of American liberties, but it recognizes change.

Thomas decried "a world of poverty in the midst of potential abundance."

Byrd Aid On Antarctic Trip Tells Experiences

Trials of Camp Life in Little America Described Before Members of Kiwanis Club

Highlights of his experiences on two Antarctic expeditions with Admiral Richard E. Byrd were related to Marion Kiwanians yesterday by Paul A. Siple, 27, of Erie, Pa., now on a speaking tour.

The trials of camp life in Little America, Siple said, included the troublesome problems of bathing and washing laundry. Members of the expedition had to melt snow for bath water and because of cramped quarters bathe in the middle of the living quarters. He suggested the men probably couldn't be criticized for making Saturday night come only once in every three weeks.

Each man had four shirts and each one hated to think of washing them, he said. The only place for them to be dried was in the narrow aisle that led to bunks because the laundry water would have frozen at once on the outside where temperatures ranged as low as 72 degrees below zero.

Crevasses in the ice that supported Little America made exploration dangerous, Siple said. He explained that the sweeping snow would form a thin crust over the tops of the huge splits in the ice, keeping the explorer wondering when he might drop through to almost certain death.

Ice Blocks Ship

Probably one of the biggest single obstacles encountered by the second expedition awaited the men when they arrived at the Antarctic, Siple said. Confronted by a wall of ice from 50 to 300 feet above the water the ship made its way to the Bay of Whales but thin ice ranging from 15 to 20 feet in thickness made it impossible for the ship to enter. This made it necessary to transport the provisions from the ship approximately eight miles to reach the buildings that were used in the first expedition. During the arduous work of unloading a huge section of the ice including the area on which the expedition base was located was broken free and floated separately from the main body of ice that was connected with the Antarctic continent. This dangerous situation disappeared when freezing ice cemented the break.

He told how difficulties encountered after arrival prevented Admiral Byrd and his assistants from following their plan to establish a base 400 miles from the camp and to have three or four men remain there through the long winter night to obtain scientific data. Arrival of winter and darkness found the men only 123 miles from camp with provisions for one person. It was then that Admiral Byrd elected to remain at the tiny camp alone during the winter undergoing sickness caused by fumes from his stove. When his assistants went to the camp several months later they found Admiral Byrd so weak he scarcely could walk, Siple related.

Plenty of Work

Despite the general belief that most of the men in camp loafed throughout the long period of winter darkness there was a constant rush and hurry to obtain the scientific information sought by the explorers, Siple said. Without attempting to do any research work the men busied themselves gathering information for later analysis and worked long hours daily. Research work on material thus gathered is still being done, he said.

In his brief remarks about the scientific phase of the work, Siple said the explorers learned there was a greater variety of living things in the water at Little America than in the water of the tropics. More than 100 kinds of bacteria were found and discoveries of plant life in a mountain range of the continent increased the number of different plants known to science by a margin of 70 per cent.

Despite close quarters and trying living conditions the 41 men in the party went through their long stay at Little America without any form of disagreement. Each man, even the one who was second in charge, took turns doing janitor work and washing dishes, he said.

On the second expedition the camp established on the first trip was located easily and was restored for use.

Tractors Used Successfully

Siple told of holding blowtorches against tractor motors for an hour to thaw out the oil so that motors could be started. He said tractors were used successfully in antarctic exploration on the second expedition after failures in the first one.

It was the second time Kiwanians had heard Siple tell of his experiences. Five years ago before he accompanied Admiral Byrd on the second expedition Siple talked here at a joint meeting of Kiwanis and Rotary. He was presented yesterday by Arthur Brooks, Boy Scout executive for the Harding area.

Several adults holding positions in the Marion district of Scouts were guests. They included Fred Allen, publicity chairman; Harry Dowler, Sea Scout chairman, and H. Alfred Donithen, chairman of the court of honor. Kiwanis members also introduced as scout officials were Prosecuting Attorney Paul D. Michel, reading chairman; Common Pleas Judge Hector S. Young and C. A. Hudson, superintendent of city schools, members of the county court of honor.

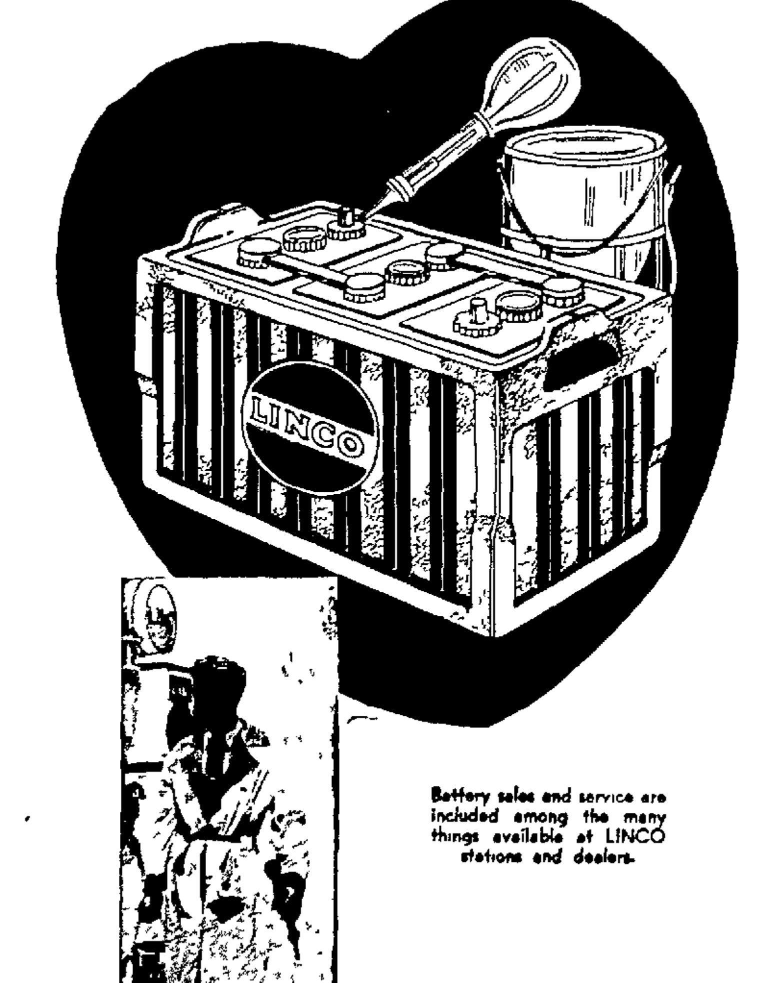
The Heart Of Your Car!



Battery sales and service are included among the many things available at LINCO stations and dealers.

If you've ever begged passing motorists for a push, or pushed a little yourself until the old back cried for mercy, you know that nothing takes the joy out of life quicker than a dead battery.

So when the LINCO man asks if he can check you battery, he's trying to keep your driving free from pushes. And if he should find the battery so far gone that even a recharge won't breathe the spark of life back into it, don't feel he's telling you that just so he can sell you a LINCO battery. It's far more of a service than a sale.

You can buy any LINCO battery with complete confidence that the plates, grids, insulators, acid and case which go into its making are of the highest quality, and that you are assured of quick starting, proper ignition and strong lights.

Watch The Battery Water Line

THAT'S the most important part in keeping your battery at peak efficiency. Failure to do so will materially shorten its life and cause annoying delays and needless expense. So don't be in too big a hurry to let the LINCO man check up. There is no charge for the distilled water or his service.

Through the efforts of Wayne Shaw and Forrest Sharrock, pilots of the Buick team in the 500-mile Y. M. C. Union Church Services Will Begin Here Sunday

Rev. James O. Dodd Will Preach First of Series of Sermons at St. Paul's English Lutheran.

Congregations of nine Marion churches will [illegible] Sunday night at St. Paul's English Lutheran church for the first of the annual summer series of union church services.

Union services will be held each Sunday night at 8 o'clock, concluding Sunday, Sept. 4, with a concert by the young people's federation at the First Presbyterian church.

Rev. James O. Dodd, pastor of the Central Christian church, will be the speaker at the first union service. His topic has been announced as "Christ Sure Religion." A program of special music also has been arranged.

Young People's Meetings

Each union service is preceded by a meeting at 7 o'clock of the young people's federation consisting of young people from each of the nine participating churches. The young people from each church will take charge of the youth program on the Sunday evening on which the pastor of their church is to be the guest speaker.

The musical program for Sunday evening will include three numbers, "Beautiful Saviour," "As Pants the Hart for Cooling Stream" and "Abide With Me," sung by the choir of St. Paul's church with Mrs. Paul Kinzer [illegible] organist, at the organ. The service will be preceded by a prelude and brought to a close with a recessional played by Mrs. Kinzer.

The importance of unity among churches of different denominations was emphasized today by Rev. Franklin G. Markley, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church and chairman of the union service committee. "We are fortunate that we can unite in these services," Rev. Markley said. "One of the great values of the services is that they give proof of cooperation among the different denominations."

Jesus, Lord and Master

A SERMONETTE

By REV. CARL V. ROOP,
Pastor, First U. B. Church.

Text: "Ye call me Master and Lord, and ye say well; for so I am."—John 13:13.

JESUS had just taught his disciples a great lesson in humility by washing their feet. He then declared to them the words found in the text. They were astonished beyond measure that the one they called Master and Lord should thus stoop and so humble himself to actually do such a lowly service for them. But Jesus also added these words unto them: If I, your Lord and Master do these things unto you, ye ought to do it to one another. Verily, verily I say unto you, the servant is not greater than his lord. Neither he that is sent, greater than he that sent him.

It is true that men should by law have equal rights. But equality amongst men is only the dream of fanatics, simply because the Creator in His divine economy has not bestowed equal gifts or powers of body or of mind and no human laws can equalize men's condition, their possessions or their enjoyments. Therefore in all society there must be authority and subordination. Some must rule while others obey, some must lead while others follow, some must teach and some must learn.

However, in it all the principles laid down and the doctrine declared by Christ between "Lord and Servant," must never be forgotten, which include: The golden rule, just consideration for the other fellow, the spirit of unselfishness and helpfulness to all, clothed with courtesy, meekness and humbleness of heart.

So it is in the spiritual kingdom of our Lord. Jesus makes no apology for his claims, but declares himself to be the authoritative Teacher, the Master of his people and of mankind. He reveals and communicates the truth of God to men. He bids us learn of Him. He is the Lord who rules. His authority is not merely over men's beliefs, it is over their actions. He issues laws and requires homage and obedience. In these respects Christ is unrivaled and supreme — One is your Master."

Where does Jesus get this high place as Master and Lord?

First, on the grounds of his native right. The Deity of our Lord's person, the divinity of his attributes, his appointment by the father, all give him the right to teach and govern his people.

Second, on the ground of his moral fitness. His wisdom and instinct are such that none is so qualified to instruct. His moral authority is such that the conscience bows before Him as before none other.

Third, on still more tender grounds is his love towards his people. What he has done and suffered for us is proof of his affection in our behalf, which gives Him claim to our devotion and that we recognize Him in his proper and rightful place as Master and Lord.

The disciples called Jesus Lord. As long as Jesus remained in the flesh there was no difficulty in looking upon him as Master. But the visible Master became the invisible. The disciples also passed away. Generations have come and gone. We still say Master and Lord. Jesus might well ask, what do we mean when we say this? Is it a mere title of honor? Is it remote recollections of power and duty with an empty meaning? Or is there a real mastery and a real service still in its meaning for us? If by saying Lord, Lord, helps us in serving and in bringing others to serve then we can not say it too often.

Again in saying Master and Lord there must be a deep and true experience that Jesus is truly Master and Lord. Empty compliments do Jesus no good, any more than mere names of abuse do Him harm. We are not servants of Jesus just because we say we are. With Jesus quality goes before quantity, and where there is quality, quantity never fails. In other words character and the inward life constitute the richest service to Jesus. Jesus expects everyone of us to do much for Him, but this is accomplished by being much for Him.

Jesus has proven Himself worthy of the name and title Master and Lord, not by the strength of his own arm, not by large standing armies or powerful navies, not by multiplied millions of money, not by any high and favored social standing or position but by his purity, his gentleness, his goodness, his self-denial and the sheer moral worth and dignity of his character. The quality of his soul was his successful power. Through his wonderful life, his sorrows in the garden, his suffering and ignominious death on the cross, his resurrection and ascension he made known the infinite mercy and fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, and gave to the world the great salvation and to those who trust and obey that peace that passeth understanding. "Ye call me Master and Lord, and ye say well; for so I am."

CONCERT SUNDAY AT WESLEY CHURCH

A concert on a Hammond electric organ will be presented Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the Wesley M. E. church by Miss Ruth Nagel, concert organist of Columbus. Members of the quartet are Mrs. Edna Devenney, Mrs. Florence Zuspan, Mrs. Marabelle Fitch and Miss Rena Wiant.

Ronald Is Told Why He Can't Cancel Senior Dates

I COULD HAVE [illegible] jumped [illegible] as I heard Ronald asking me what was my advice about the [illegible] of the [illegible] Derby Day dates.

It gave me just the opportunity I wanted to bolster the things his step-father had said to him on the subject.

When I was [illegible] to name Braxton to Ronald that he was actually out of the woods before he had in his hand the bank draft I meant to get for him from the secret fund left by Robert [illegible] I did not want the [illegible] to be deprived of a single [illegible] he had planned before the financial debacle which had overtaken his step-father.

Vital Matter

If he had dreamed that I was the source of his father's sudden relief from worry I knew that nothing in the world would have induced him to [illegible] a cent of the money for his own pleasure. But secure in the knowledge that he did not dream of my part in his father's sudden return to confidence in himself and his future, I prepared to drive home a few arguments which I hoped would make him believe he was warranted in going ahead with the Derby Day festivities.

"If it were a question of your pleasure or Marion's or Carolyn's [illegible] I might not say to you that I thought you were justified in spending this money at this time," I said mendaciously, but none the less firmly.

"But something much more vital than your pleasure is involved," I rushed on. "Remember that outside of ourselves and your father's trusted secretary and office boy nobody knows for sure that he is in financial trouble. Many may suspect it, but nobody really knows."

"Yes, I know," Ronald said. "Dad already told me that."

"But ghouls are always watching," I went on, feeling a bit ridiculous in my theatrical phrasing. "And nothing would give them more cause for comment than either your withdrawal from college or your failure to attend the Derby Day festivities. You always have been a prominent figure in the college social life, you know. Any deviation from your usual course would be marked."

But Ronald for the minute was paying no attention to my words.

Ronald Puzzled

"Who told you that I was planning to withdraw from college?" he asked, and I caught my breath as I realized that I had inadvertently blurted out something that Marion had told me he had said in his letter to her.

But if I were to be hanged, I might as well salvage the tradition sheep instead of a lamb, I told myself, and I looked at him with what I flatter myself was a creditable store of innocence.

"Why! no one," I said. "And I really don't know it now. I suppose I must have inferred it from your resolution to cancel the Derby Day festivities. I figured that you would not wish to remain in college under those circumstances."

His knotted eyebrows smoothed out and his eyes lost their suddenly strained look.

"Nor would I," he said. "But—forgive me, this seems so far fetched—that my giving up the Derby Day festivities would affect dad."

Understands Reason

"Look at it reasonably, Ronald," I pleaded. "Suppose—just suppose —that among the lads in Yale someone has a father who is interested in crushing your father financially. Such things are not beyond the bounds of possibility, you know. Suppose that this boy —innocently enough perhaps—mentions at home that you are canceling your dates for Derby Day."

"That would be enough for his father. He would know at once that something was radically wrong with your father, and then the wolves would be in full cry. Can't you see this?"

Ronald was silent for a long minute.

"Yes, I do see," he said at last. "You have made it most clear, and I will do whatever you say. Tell me, do you think Carolyn suspects anything as yet? I asked Marion not to tell her until the very last minute. Carol's a darling but she isn't as poised as Marion."

I made no comment upon this brotherly stricture. I did not think any was required, but I hastened to answer his question.

"I am sure Marion hasn't told her," I said. "It so happened that [illegible] when we were [illegible] see Marion. So, you see, [illegible] a question of [illegible] Marion about the change [illegible]."

"And now [illegible] going to do that [illegible] carrying on a [illegible] figure," Ronald said desperately.

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Digestive Trouble.

Modern civilization is accused of being responsible for many ailments. Digestive disorders, for example, often are pointed to as being modern afflictions. But when we read the medical records we discover that many of the "modern" digestive complaints occurred among the ancients as well.

The digestive system of mankind can be subjected to a certain amount of abuse, but if evil practices are continued over a long period of time, digestive troubles result. The ancients were well aware of this and many of their articles of food were really intended to be medicine.

Even though the ancient Egyptians knew nothing about vitamins they knew that green things promoted good health. On this account they used the common mustard in the form of salad. Such foods as grapes, figs and pomegranates were used in the daily diet. If an Egyptian boy ate something that upset his stomach, he was given castor oil or made to chew and swallow the seeds.

Of course, the ancients did not know as much about the digestive tract as moderns do, nor were they familiar with the action of the stomach. We can forgive them for their indiscretions in diet, but there is no excuse for similar mistakes nowadays.

Many persons suffer from heartburn, sour taste, indigestion, nausea, constipation and other digestive disturbances as a result of carelessness in the choice of foods and in their habits of eating. The effects of such errors in diet are more frequently observed during the summer months. This is the time of the year when a change in diet is essential.

On a hot and sultry day it is best to avoid fried and greasy foods. Heavy meals should be replaced by light and cool but well-balanced and well-planned meals. During hot weather fresh fruits, vegetables, salads, jellied broths and other cooling and refreshing plates should be selected.

This is especially good advice for those who are subject to digestive disturbances. Some persons can eat most any food, while others suffer from the slightest change in the diet. At times digestive disturbances follow emotional upsets, such as fear, anxiety, apprehension or worry. It is always a good plan to avoid eating large quantities of food when under emotional strain.

Apparently everything [illegible] for [illegible] Job Jim Farley [illegible] [illegible] public opinion is [illegible]

It is unfortunate [illegible] There is no satisfaction [illegible] The air [illegible] so long the [illegible] ex[illegible]

Mr Farley [illegible] It be sure he will be [illegible] of being a member of President Roosevelt's cabinet but he will be in [illegible] in his capacity as national chairman. For he must [illegible] bet that when the campaign is over if Mr Roosevelt wins General Jim will be back in the postmaster general's office.

A concession has been made to the people who didn't see why one man—a big one—should be permitted to do openly what other men—little ones—were forbidden to do privately, namely to be on the public payroll and the party payroll at the same time. But as far as correcting a bad impression is concerned the timing is all wrong. Mr Farley's reluctant decision to confine his efforts to the national Democratic chairmanship and the New York chairmanship is about three years too late.

Good Advice

John R. McCarl left the office of comptroller general with honor when his term of office automatically expired. In commenting upon loosely and extravagantly set up government agencies he gives promise of further usefulness.

Speaking from the depth of experience and knowledge gained in 15 years of service as the watchdog of the treasury Mr McCarl insisted that systematic and sensible reorganization of the many government agencies would result in a vast monetary saving and would work for better administration. Elimination of duplicating and conflicting operations bringing together of related functions and the simplifying of various procedures are among advantages Mr McCarl sees as probable results of an extensive study of government agencies.

It is difficult to think of one argument against what the former comptroller urges. Evidence of the vast and uncoordinated growth of bureaucracy abounds. The important point now to be remembered is that the senate authorized a committee under Sen Byrd to study governmental agencies with a view to reorganization.

Mr McCarl has indicated a willingness to bring his knowledge of administrative government to the aid of the Byrd committee. He should be permitted to do so. When the committee finally makes its recommendations the report should not be allowed to gather dust in a Washington pigeon hole.

Al Smith vs Earl Browder

Alfred E. Smith and Earl Browder are not running against each other for President of the United States. The former nominee of the Democratic party and the present nominee of the Communist party stand at equal distance from the White House in opposite directions.

Yet as sure as the dirtiness of politics is the fact that before the campaign is over Brother Al and Comrade Earl are going to be pitted against each other in a little puppet show staged for the edification of the unthinking. Everything points to it.

Chairman Farley mouthpiece for the famous Charles Michelson of Smear Hoover fame has made it plain that Democratic speakers are going to use [illegible] the American Liberty League [illegible] worth. It's simple. The Liberty League [illegible] opposed to Roosevelt. [illegible] the league and the party are [illegible] thing and the Democratic party [illegible] to protect the country from the wrath and power of the Liberty League. The league's strongly worded [illegible] of neutrality will be rejected [illegible]

Republicans aren't amateurs at this sort of thing of course. They have their own tricks one of which almost certainly is going to be an exact reversal of the Democratic stunt. Browder the Communist leader is destined to be the central figure.

Browder is advising members of his party to defeat Alfred M. Landon at any cost. Their votes must be kept away from the Republican party. We must fight to take votes from Landon even though they go to Roosevelt. The implication is Vote for Browder (or Roosevelt) and remember that a vote for Browder really is a vote for Landon because Browder can't win.

Apparently while Chairman Farley insists on fighting Al Smith and the Liberty league instead of the Republican party he [illegible] the Fourth of July is an [illegible] a day of rest in une[illegible] with a [illegible] of fire[illegible] to distinguish it from ordinary holidays. In [illegible] many cases no doubt that's about the extent of its meaning. If it were possible to look into the hearts of the celebrant [illegible] one would find [illegible] and there a revelation of thoughtful [illegible] which probably would be incredible to the advanced thinkers who will wonder in their sour way just what it is that Americans are celebrating this holiday week end.

Going Ahead, Anyway

Since Wednesday more than 35 000 women and minor employes in the hotel and restaurant industry in Ohio have been under the protection of a state law regulating minimum wages and conditions of employment. In addition to establishing minimum rates for various classes of employes and varying the standards in accordance with the size of the city concerned the law stipulates many details of working conditions.

Arguing that this arbitrary fixing of wage rates is likely to increase cost of operation hotel and restaurant operators have declared their opposition to the law and announced their intention of appealing to the courts.

In view of the supreme court's invalidation of a similar law in New York state Attorney General Bricker's belief that the Ohio statute will be held unconstitutional appears justified. Meanwhile two other court suits have been aimed at the act. Contending they lost their jobs because of the state law two women are seeking an order to stop its enforcement. These pleas are due to be heard about Aug 1 in federal court.

In the meantime 35 000 hotel and restaurant employes and about 11 000 in the dry cleaning and laundry industries are protected by state minimum wage laws. They and a multitude of persons over the country are waiting to see what will happen when the courts are called upon to rule. One certainty is that the fate of the Ohio act will help clarify a discussion of regulatory laws which played an important part in the two party conventions.

Garner Is Enigma of Campaign

Question Is Whether Vice President Has Come To Agree With New Deal or Surrendered to Powerful Force

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1936 by The Marion Star

WASHINGTON July 3 Vice President [illegible] the [illegible]

[illegible] Mr Garner [illegible] right [illegible] an act [illegible] ator termed

[illegible] philosophy [illegible] his letter [illegible] presidential nomination [illegible] 1932 [illegible] which he said

In my opinion [illegible] rounds are the [illegible] of government's departure from its [illegible] functions

It [illegible] make it [illegible] too often [illegible] that [illegible] kind [illegible] but [illegible] hats [illegible] the states we perhaps would not have the present spectacle of the people rushing to Washington to set right what is wrong

But successive administrations have encouraged the spirit of dependence on government either because of the lust for additional power on the part of federal officials or simply because of a blind insistence on the Hamiltonian principle of a strongly centralized government as opposed to the Jeffersonian idea of giving to the administration at Washington only such functions as the states themselves cannot perform.

The gravitation of power to Washington has builded a structure of administration vast beyond the imagination of the builders of the Constitution—complex involved and uncoordinated a fabric of bureaus commissions boards and departments that overlap and interfere with one another—and all at the cost of the people.

Whatever idea may be held as to the so-called business cycle whatever may be the real theory that business panics inevitably follow great wars the fact remains that the master element of our trouble the unbalanced budget lies on the doorstep of the Republican administration. Through administration after administration Republican officials have so conducted our fiscal affairs as to change a large treasury surplus into a deficit of three billion in the space of less than 12 years.

The Republican platform as usual carries a retrenchment plank couched in vague elusive terms—a striking contrast to the Democratic platform which demands a retrenchment of at least 25 per cent in expenditures. [illegible] the economy plank in the Democratic platform is a guarantee that the President will not attempt to pass this buck to congress.

Had the authorship of the above speech not been disclosed many parts of it would if circulated anonymously be sure to be attributed to the economy royalists or to anti-new deal speakers.

Mr Garner's views of 1932 are in accord with Democratic doctrine of the past and as such they would find a ready response today among the Jeffersonian Democrats who oppose the reelection of Mr Roosevelt.

The vice president's abandonment of his 1932 views if indeed he has abandoned them in reality may cause much comment during the campaign but political Washington strongly enough is going on the assumption that at heart Mr Garner has not changed one iota that he feels exactly as he did for in fact when he exchanged letters in July 193[illegible] with John Henry Kirby head of the Southern constitutional ists Mr Kirby wrote

My Dear John: How long are you going to tolerate the apostasy of the Roosevelt administration to the cardinal principles of the Democratic party and the notorious contempt for the plain terms of the Constitution?

To this Mr Garner replied

Dear John Henry: Your favor is just called to my attention. You can't do everything you want to and I can't do half what I would like to [illegible] You can't control everybody you would like to and I am in a similar fix. I think this answers your [illegible] With regards [illegible] wishing you health and happiness etc

As vice president Mr Garner has had a seat at the cabinet table. He knows what is going on but he has no power to change things as he has no administrative authority. He has done yeoman service however in [illegible] line up votes in the senate for various [illegible] measures. He has earned his renomination.

The incident of the 1932 acceptance letter is cited not in criticism of John Nance Garner but to illustrate what the average man probably does not realize namely that the [illegible] of [illegible] knows no consistency and that political expediency governs many of the public statements issued by candidates for high office. This is probably [illegible] to those who [illegible] the game of politics but there are many persons [illegible] who will wonder why Mr Garner did not reiterate his 1932 [illegible] and take a walk. For there [illegible] who would not even accept [illegible] presidency at the price of a public [illegible] of conviction of a lifetime.

Behind the News

Men and Affairs Under The Washington Spotlight

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON July 3 — Only persons with unusually long memories will recall that congressional leaders started this last session of congress with a promise to cut down on spending. One particular house leader went to Warm Springs and announced the formation of an economy bloc. He said it would rebel against the new deal expenditures program.

The results of the rebellion were announced the other day by this very same leader who however neglected to recall his prophecy made six months earlier. The reason for his neglect is the fact that his tabulation showed

Appropriations by this congress $10 336 938 839

Appropriations by previous congress $10 083 370 000

Curtailment accomplished Minus 4-85 568 839

Progress

The way curtailment has progressed in reverse may be traced from the beginning in these estimates by Chairman Buchanan of the house appropriations committee. His figures indicate that the first congressional session of President Roosevelt's administration appropriated $4 600 000 000. The next session jumped the total to $8 700 000 000 the third to $9 500 000 000 (not including the stabilization fund) and then the last two to $10 073 000 000 and $10 335 000 000.

The failure to show any net economies this time is blamed on the soldier bonus which carried $2 249 000 000. Also there was an appropriation of about $300 000 000 to pay off AAA contracts. In other words about $2 600 000 000 will not be recurring next year. However there will be other things to take the place of these such as for instance social security.

Constitutionalizing

It passed unnoticed in the adjournment excitement but just a few hours before congress closed a bill was slipped through hurriedly authorizing the rural resettlement administration to make tax payments to local taxing authorities.

It means Prof Tugwell's boys are now going to pay out to affected communities sums equivalent to lost taxes.

This sounded like a big hearted and judicious move when proposed in the senate by Senator Black four hours before adjournment. The Republicans thought so and let the bill go through.

Nobody mentioned the real reason behind it in the debate namely that the resettling lawyers are worried about that adverse decision in the Bound Brook case. They are trying to constitutionalize their law before it gets to the supreme court.

Note — P of Tugwell's lawyers did not act a moment too soon. They have not found it out yet but they will have another suit on their hands shortly. A prominent local lawyer now is being solicited by private clients to institute suit against another of the five big resettlement projects.)

Seven Eleven

Mr Roosevelt thinks his lucky number is seven. He graduated from law school and started the practice of law in 1907. He was married on March 17 resigned as New York state senator to become assistant secretary of navy on March 17 and accepted renomination on June 27 for the term beginning in 1937.

Pain

The smartest one of the Democratic estimators has written off the Lemke third party movement at a book loss of 1 250 000 votes. Ordinarily this would not be worth considering but the trouble is Lemke will get nearly all of them in six states North Dakota Minnesota Iowa Michigan and Ohio and Massachusetts.

The question is whether these defections will be sufficient to let Landon carry those states. It is a very serious question from the viewpoint of the Democratic high command.

Crowding

The new Union party has put the serious third party advocates in a hole. As you know Gov Olson Phil LaFollette and others have talked of a third party to be launched after Mr Roosevelt.

The Union party by entering the election this year will be virtually assured of a place on the ballot in most of the states in 1940. If the LaFollette groups try to get into the picture then they will find the third party seat already taken. They are troubled about it.

The general viewpoint hereabouts is that the Lemkitians outsmarted them.

Renunciation

Do not be surprised if Mr Roosevelt stops the third term talk during the campaign by resurrecting and personally adopting the Democratic platform of 1912—the year he first attracted the eye of Josephus Daniels who started him on the road to political fame through the navy department. This plank reads

We favor a single presidential term and to that end we urge the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution making the President of the United States ineligible for re-election.

NEW YORK July 3—Thoughts while strolling. It was Bert Lytell who got Earl Carroll going bare headed to cure baldness—and now look. Ted Saucier throws more parties than a champ wrestler. At present rate Hollywood will soon have them all. Save perhaps George M. Cohan.

Hollywood in a sudden shift becomes the radio center as well as the film capital. The biggest of the air entertainments are scheduled to take off from there next August. Chief reason: Name talent meaning the picture stars is more readily available at the source. To bargain on the coast for these attractions is cheaper and here is the opportunity to get the Clark Gables and Joan Crawfords for guest stars between pictures. Also the guest star invariably rates a national plug for his or her currently released film.

I've thought that among the most useless of dinghuses was that tiny bow found invariably inside a man's hat. A relic of the long ago a hatter informs me when there were no hat sizes and the wearer had a slip string around where the band is now for head adjustment. When adjusted the ends were tied in a bow and for sentimental reasons the small reminder was always retained. Back in the Gay 90s the girls used to save and string them for a mirror decoration.

The same informant is authority for why men walk outside the lady along the sidewalks. In early days it was to protect her from splashes of mud from the street. And what is now the walking stick was carried to chase mongrels away. The button hole on the coat lapel was to close and protect the throat.

TODAY — England Looks Through Different Glasses

PARIS July 3—[illegible] England's proud [illegible] against Mussolini's conquest of Ethiopia [illegible] that England once made a similar [illegible] on her own account and [illegible] fully.

In 1867 the Ethiopian king Theodore had locked up the British consul Capt Cameron and other Europeans in his fortress Magdala.

England marched in her [illegible] of elephants over [illegible] passes. British [illegible] knew how to treat natives and [illegible] tribes on the route were admirably handled and supplies paid for so that not a shot was fired on the 400 miles up to Magdala or on the return.

You will observe that when Mussolini accused the late Ethiopian government of killing many Italian subjects no British subject was killed back in [illegible] nevertheless England marched and King Theodore died.

This shows he would [illegible] more serious to imprison [illegible] than it is to shoot [illegible] Italian at least in the estimation of England.

HOTPOINT ELECTRIC RANGE SALES SHOW BIG INCREASE

C.,D.&M. Employes Unload Third Car of Hotpoints

The above picture was taken in the railroad yards here as employe of the C D & M Electric Co unloaded the third carload of Hotpoint electric ranges received by the company this year The shipment contained 52 ranges Sale of Hotpoint ranges here this year has broken all previous record company officials declare Voluntary reductions in electric rates are seen as one of the prime factors in the boost in sales charge for special wiring that may be required

Within the last few weeks the C D & M has worked out a new schedule of electric rates which means a decrease of an average of 17 per cent Part of the reduction became effective July 1 and the remainder will go into effect on Jan 1 1937

The following schedule shows what the new rates will be after July 1 and Jan 1

	July 1	Jan 1
First 40 kilowatt hours	$.05½	$.05
Next 30 KWH	.04½	.04
Next 30 KWH	.03	.03
Next 200 KWH	.02½	.02½
Balance	.01½	.01½

The reductions represent a substantial saving especially to the average user who falls in the first two brackets of the rate schedule

Take Away Drudgery

Marion housewife who have bought their Hotpoints this year are finding with agreeable surprise that the claim that electric cookery takes the drudgery out of the kitchen is no idle one. For them a kitchen heated to the melting point on hot days by radiation from the baking oven is a thing of the past. In a test recently conducted it was found that a Hotpoint range with the oven going for six hours raised the temperature of a kitchen only one degree There was no waste heat radiated into the room All the heat from the Calrod units was absorbed by the food since the current controls are so adapted that only what heat is necessary need be generated Complete insulation of the Hotpoint oven also prevents the dissipation of heat into the kitchen

Just as many housewives have found that their automatic refrigerators have actually paid for themselves in food savings so are they finding that electric cookery will do the same officials of the electric company declare Controlled temperature that produced better results the ability to cook an entire meal in the oven at the same time time saved in the kitchen by the automatic Chef's Brain that turns the heat on and off at the proper time are only a few of the features of electric cookery that make this possible.

Point To Advantages

In carrying to Marion housewives the story of electric cookery representatives of the C D & M point to these advantages of electric ranges over other types of cooking ranges

It's Clean—No grimy kitchen walls No blackened pots and pans to scour Electric heat is clean as sunshine Affords a marked saving in cleaning and decorating expense

Cool—In surface cookery utensils rest directly on the heating coil—none of the heat is wasted The Hotpoint oven is thoroughly insulated to prevent dissipation of heat

Fast—Glowing red heat Hotpoint's amazing Calrod heating coil cooks as fast as food will cook Just snap the switch

Economical — About 1 250 000 homes now enjoy electric cookery at a cost of less than a penny a meal per person (national average) Costs no more than less convenient methods

Better Results—Modern electric cookery with the new Hotpoint automatic range produces consistently better results There is no luck in this method—it's scientifically accurate

Outstanding Features

The new Hotpoint has many outstanding features but a few of the most important and attractive to housewives are these

Thrift Cooker, Hotpoint's great economy feature affords savings in both food and electric current Cooks complete meals

Automatic Oven Temperature Control combines accuracy with simplicity Maintains a constant oven temperature

Chef's Brain—The automatic timer-clock will turn your oven on and off at the times you desire

Full-Size Oven with efficient insulation to keep the heat in large enough for a complete meal a big turkey or nine quart canning jars It's automatic

Warming Drawer with heating unit warms plates keeps food hot provides a convenient storage space

Super Speed Broiler with smokeless tray The broiler produces broiled meats which are decidedly superior

MOTO-SWAY DEVICE USED BY MERCER

Lubrication System Operates Under Actual Road Conditions

Moto-Sway one of the newest developments in the scientific lubrication of automobiles is used exclusively by the C K Mercer Hi Speed service station at North Main and Farming streets

The moto-sway equipment is a simple device including a motor operated by compressed air which gently rocks the car while the lubrication operation is in progress This rocking action opens the spring leaves to admit oil from the spray detects squeeks and rattles, and opens shackle joints so that the lubricant reaches all wearing parts

It is lubrication under actual road conditions and since there are no dry spots left a car lubricated by moto-sway will last longer and require fewer repairs

WEATHER CONTROL FOR FARM BUILDINGS

More and more, farmers are beginning to realize the importance of temperature control in farm buildings Insulating board applied directly over the interior walls assists in correcting unsatisfactory conditions. As a protector against loss of heat, it conserves animal heat in dairy barns, stables, brooder houses, and laying houses. It is also useful as an insulator in ice and milk houses.

TOLEDO—A housing survey in this city shows a shortage of 6 000 homes The building of these houses according to an estimate would require the expenditure of $27 000 000 of which $13 500 000 would be for labor

Records show that from 1920 to 1930 an average of 1 200 new houses were built per year while from 1930 to 1935 less than 200 houses were erected At the same time the 1935 directory shows 20 000 additional names over the 1934 list.

In small houses where all the wall space is needed for furniture book shelves may be built on the walls starting about 4 feet above the floor This allows the lower part of the wall to be used for furniture and at the same time gives a refuge for your books

RECORD MONTH

The Automobile Manufacturers association reports that April's shipment of members at 382 165 cars and trucks were the highest for any month since May 1929 according to an Associated Press dispatch in the Philadelphia Inquirer Factory shipments for the first four months of this year the association reported amounted to 1 212 212 units a gain of 20 per cent over the corresponding period of last year and the highest for that period since 1929

NEWS OF STAGE AND SCREEN—MARION THEATER PROGRAMS

Three New Pictures On Palace Bill Next-Week

Grace Moore in "The King Steps Out" Heads Program With Opening Sunday

Three new feature pictures headed by "The King Steps Out" starring the blondiva, Grace Moore are on tap for Palace theater patrons in the week starting Sunday.

The Grace Moore film has been booked for screening Sunday and Monday and the following two days a new child star Bobby Breen will be introduced to movie goers in "Let's Sing Again". Thursday through Saturday a new M-G-M release "Speed" with an impressive cast headed by James Stewart and Ted Healy will be the attraction.

It was Grace Moore who started the vogue of opera stars on the screen. Since then several others have flashed across the silver sheet and disappeared but Grace appears to retain her top position. Playing opposite the blond star is Franchot Tone, one of the current matinee idols. Tone is seen in the role of Emperor Francis Josef of Austria who woos one daughter of Duke Maximilian—played by Walter Connolly—and finally marries another. The other one might safely presume would be Miss Moore. In the supporting cast are Raymond Walburn, Victor Jory, Herman Bing and Thurston Hall. Music was written by one of the standout figures in the musical world—Fritz Kreisler. If the violinist writes tunes as well as he fiddles Columbia Pictures makers of "The King Steps Out" have scooped the industry in obtaining his services.

Eddie Cantor fans will ree[illegible] in [illegible] to [illegible] Breen eight year old star of "Let's Sing Again". Bobby has been a feature attraction on the Cantor radio shows. In the [illegible] years he has been in show business the lad has skipped from cabarets to footlights to air waves and now to the screen. They say he has plenty on the ball. Palace fans will have an opportunity to judge for themselves Wednesday and Thursday. Supporting the boy are Henry Armetta, Italian comic, Grant Withers, Inez Courtney and Vivienne Osborne.

"Speed" which opens a three day engagement Thursday is a recent release and no advance reports are available on it but the quality of the cast indicates that it's probably pretty good entertainment. James Stewart the lead will be or should be remembered for his fine portrayal of the newspaper correspondent in Margaret Sullavan's "Next Time We Love". Ted Healy is the stage comic, a former Shubert star who has stolen just about every picture in which he has appeared including one starring radio's Jack Benny. Other top notch players in the cast are Una Merkel, Wendy Barrie, Ralph Morgan, Patricia Wilder, Robert Livingstone and Charles Trowbridge. The picture is a drama of the race tracks dealing with those unsung heroes—the test pilots.

Shorts for the week are topped by a Fitzpatrick travel feature "St Helena and Its Man of Destiny" and an Edgar Kennedy comedy. The former is scheduled for Sunday Monday and the latter Tuesday Wednesday.

"San Francisco" one of the latest critic rave pictures will begin its Marion showing with a midnight preview Saturday night July 11.

COMEDY MARKS BILL FOR WEEK

"Gentle Julia," a Tarkington Story and "The First Baby" at Ohio

Comedy is the keynote of the Ohio theater's film program next week with Booth Tarkington's hilarious story of small town romance "Gentle Julia" and the Twentieth Century-Fox laugh hit "The First Baby" booked for screening. Other features scheduled for the week are George O'Brien's latest release "The Border Patrol" and the current "March of Time" reel.

Because of the popularity of the Max Schmeling-Joe Louis fight pictures now being shown at the Ohio Manager J J Huebner announced today the film will be on the screen five times the Fourth of July 1 30 p m 3 30 p m 5 30 p m and 7 30 and 9 30 at night. The pictures are the clearest and best edited ever taken of a heavy weight fight.

"Gentle Julia" starring the popular child star Jane Withers will open a three day run Sunday augmented by the new "March of Time" dramatic presentation of current world events and the usual program of shorts. As a mischievous little vixen who turns her hand to patching up romance "Gentle Julia" gives Jane Withers the most important film role that versatile and clever little actress has ever had. The setting of the picture is a sleepy little Indiana town where Marsha Hunt new Fox Films eyeful who plays the title role and aunt of Jane is besieged on all sides by eligible young men and is reluctant to turn any of them down. In the supporting cast are Tom Brown, George Meeker, Francis Ford, Harry Holman and young Jackie Searl the latter remembered as the villian in "Tom Sawyer".

"The First Baby" comes to the Ohio screen Wednesday for a three day engagement. The second feature is George O'Brien's "The Border Patrol". The former is a richly human romance of two young newlyweds who find out you don't have to have quintuplets to have baby trouble. Featuring the fast rising Johnny Downs and Shirley Deane in the leading roles "The First Baby" is a story of love round by round with in-law trouble balling things up and a little bundle from heaven helping the two youngsters find their way to happiness. Heading the supporting cast is Dixie Dunbar as a bugs ear Dunbar who looked and danced like a million in the recent musical smash "King of Burlesque". Next in line come Jane Darwell, Marjorie Gateson, Gene Lockhart and Taylor Holmes. The baby in the film is Sandy Stone just seven months old.

On Saturday July 11 Marion Davies latest vehicle "Hearts Divided" will open its local run at the Ohio. Supporting the comedienne are Dick Powell, Charles Ruggles, Claude Rains and the always reliable Edward Everett Horton.

TWO TOP RATE FILMS COMING

Marion Books "So Red the Rose" and "Counterfeit" for Next Week.

[illegible] pictures of proven [illegible] battery of six films [illegible] the Marion theater [illegible] beginning Sunday. [illegible] offerings is Mar[illegible] "So Red the [illegible] romance in which [illegible] girl has scored so [illegible] will be seen Tuesday [illegible] On the same bill [illegible] G-man drama [illegible] Morris and Margot Grahame.

[illegible] the week Sunday and [illegible] two better-than-average [illegible] features, "The Leathernecks Have Landed," with Lew Ayres and fast-talking Isabel Jewell and "Bachelor of Arts," with Tom Brown, Arline Judge and the late Henry B. Walthall. Devotion to the Marine Corps, a [illegible] which transcends all personal considerations on the part of its present and former personnel, provides the theme for the leatherneck drama. The colorful [illegible] of Havana and Shanghai and the interior of China furnish the background. Assisting Lew Ayres who returns to the screen in the picture, and Isabel Jewell are Jimmy Ellison, J. Carrol Naish, Paul Porcasi and James Burke. On the same bill is Fox films' "Bachelor of Arts," described as a fast-moving, witting and honest story of college life—a college picture without a football game. The story was turned out by John Erskine, one of the country's leading pen pushers, and in the supporting cast with Tom Brown and Arline Judge are Anita Louise, Stepin Fetchit and George Meeker.

"So Red The Rose" is the filmization of Stark Young's emotional novel of the "old south." Director King Vidor has done a neat job with the production — holding to the characters and plot of its author yet investing the picture with plenty of added life and vitality. The picture plays two days—Wednesday and Thursday. In the supporting cast are Walter Connolly, Randolph Scott, Janet Beecher, Harry Ellerbe and little Dickie Moore. The second feature is "Counterfeit," starring Chester Morris as T-Man (treasury department operative), who single-handed traps and captures a ring of counterfeiters. Morris, a highly capable actor, is supported by Margot Grahame of "The Informer" fame, Lloyd Nolan, always a good bad man, Claude Gillingwater, George McKay and Marion Marsh.

Two new westerns open a three-day run Thursday. They are Kermit Maynard's latest, "His Fighting Blood," and a Gene Autry release, "Guns and Guitars." On the same bill is chapter No. 5 of "The Miracle Rider," starring Tom Mix.

LAW FIRM SET UP

BUCYRUS, July 3—The establishment of a law firm of Wright and Hilborn was announced today by former Common Pleas Judge J. Walter Wright of this city and O. H. Hilborn of Crestline.

CHILD STAR PLAYS TARKINGTON ROLE

Above is Jane Withers, popular child star, who plays the leading role in "Gentle Julia," picturization of one of Booth Tarkington's funniest stories, opening a three-day run at the Ohio theater Sunday.

"ROBERTA" ON BILL AT STATE

What is Generally Considered Astaire and Rogers Best To Return Here.

A return engagement of what is generally conceded to be the best of the Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers cycle of dance films heads the six-picture program arranged for the State theater next week.

Critics contend that none of the Astaire-Rogers vehicles can touch their "Roberta," which will be on the State screen Wednesday and Thursday. On the same bill is a late Wheeler and Woolsey comedy feature, "Kentucky Kernels."

Opening the week's bill for a three-day run Sunday are two standout pictures, "The Lady Consents," with Ann Harding and Herbert Marshall, and "I Conquer the Sea," a drama of whale fishing, with Steffi Duna, young Hungarian actress who did such a remarkable job in the smash color classic, "La Cucaracha." The story of "I Conquer the Sea" is laid upon the rocky shores of northern Newfoundland in a whaling station wherein the last survivors of one of the bravest callings on land or sea still struggle for existence against a vanishing tradition and a diminishing number of whales. Against this background and tradition is superimposed an idyllic love story. With Miss Duna are Stanley Morner, new M-G-M find, and Douglas Walton, supported by a strong cast.

Never has the agile Fred Astaire danced so gracefully and seldom has the titian-haired Rogers looked so appealing as in "Roberta." Heading the large supporting cast are Irene Dunne and Randolph Scott. The background is Paris. The Wheeler and Woolsey feature is a comedy of the Kentucky feud sections.

A feature cast of names prominent in pictures a number of years ago has been assembled in "The Millionaire Kid," which comes into the State Friday and Saturday. On the same bill is Bill Cody's latest western action drama, "Frontier Days." Topping the "Millionaire Kid" players are Betty Compson, biggest feminine star of the early talkie days, Bryant Washburn, matinee idol in the silents, Creighton Hale, Eddie Phillips, Lois Wild, Bradley Metcalfe and Charles Delaney. "The Millionaire Kid" is a story of the danger of divorce and its influence on the lives of the children.

Assisting Bill Cody in his current horse op'ry are Ada Ince, Wheeler Oakman, Bill Desmond, Franklin Farnum and Bill Cody, Jr.

MURDER TONIGHT

BY LAURENCE W. MEYNELL

(Copyright, 1936, Lawrence W. Meynell)

SYNOPSIS: Inspector Hylton has not made much headway at finding the man who clubbed old Arthur Burdett to death — although he has found something suspicious about the dour manservant of the deceased, who is to inherit all the property of his master. But the whole village of Hope Enderton is more or less implicated—even the vicar just has dropped a compromising remark to Hylton. And Dale Shipley, half nephew of Burdett is on the suspicious list too. Hylton just is meeting Shipley in the bar of the Hoops.

CHAPTER NINETEEN

Mary's Deceit

DALE nodded to Hylton and regarded him with an eye that lost nothing of its furtive wariness when the inspector strolled up to the bar to join him in a drink.

"Making any headway?" he asked casually.

"Lots," Hylton cheerfully assured him. The young man seemed relieved. "That's good hearing," he said. "After anyone in particular?"

"We're always after somebody, you know," the inspector answered.

"Um. I suppose you'll be too busy to come out for a day's hunting tomorrow—they're meeting at the Five Way Post just up the road, and Perry here would find you a hack."

Kingsley Hylton considered this semi-invitation. True there were things he wanted to do; but true also that he had a great theory about observing people in their unguarded moments.

"I might have a day out," he said. "I'll think it over."

"I don't understand about Monday evening, Mary, you told me you had been to church as usual."

"John—I—"

Ping . . .

John Fenton stared after his wife as she automatically obeyed the summons of the shop door bell. Even if their world was tumbling about their ears it would not have entered John or Mary Fenton's head to let that bell ring unheeded: it, and what it stood for, had become the major part of their lives.

John and Mary Fenton were feeling the pressure of big business. The fact was that old Burdett, who was the Fenton's landlord, was renting the premises next door to the Coastal Cooperative society, which first had tried to buy out the Fentons, and then had determined to run them out of business.

And the further truth was that after John Fenton had failed to persuade old Burdett to stand by local enterprise and forsake his plan to rent to the Cooperative, Mary Fenton had dressed in her Sunday black, taken her prayer book under her arm, and gone to see Burdett herself.

When Mary came back into the room from attending to her customer, her husband said slowly.

"I don't understand about Monday evening, Mary. You told me you had been to church as usual."

Mary hesitated and looked at him, and he was frightened by something in her eyes.

She tried to tell him something, but could only cry "John—I—I—I—" then rushing across the room she fell on her knees at his side and with her head on his lap burst into a fit of uncontrollable sobbing.

Nancy Featherstone gentled her big grey, who had a shrewd idea of what was afoot and was excited with anticipation of it, and turned him left down the road as she came out of her drive gateway.

Her groom, standing arms akimbo in the stable yard watching her departure, was mildly surprised. "Rum way o' going to the Five Way Post," he muttered; but he was a philosophical man, as grooms mostly are; in his experience women and horses were almost equally unpredictable.

Nancy took the grey up Pilcher's Lane at the top of which she saw what she had hoped to see, a solitary horseman riding ahead of her. She put the grey on to the wide grass verge of the lane and went along it at a canter.

"Hallo, Dale," she cried, reining in alongside him.

Young Shipley turned to her in high good humor; he was immensely pleased with his new mount and as far as he could see all Banner Dawley's glowing prognostications might well be justified.

"Hallo, Nancy. How d'you like the look of her?"

With the morning sun gleaming on her chestnut coat and white stockings the mare looked a picture; and young Dale Shipley, always at his best on horseback, took the eye, too, in his rakish way.

"She looks splendid, Dale."

"You haven't said anything to any one about it?"

"She feels right; keen as mustard, I should say, though I haven't galloped her yet. I suppose we'll draw the Seven Acre first, won't we?"

"Pretty sure to."

"I wonder if that old fox we've had out before 'll be there."

Nancy laughed. "I'm beginning to believe the Seven Acre vixen is a myth," she said; "we never catch her anyway."

They jogged along in silence for a bit, each taking stock of the other's mount; then Dale reined in closer to Nancy and said a little awkwardly,

"I say—Nancy—"

"Yes?"

"You know what I told you about having a bit of a tiff with old Burdett."

"Yes."

"You haven't said anything to anyone about it, have you?"

"Of course not."

Dale looked relieved. "That's all right," he said with a laugh. "It doesn't really matter, of course, only you know how people talk. That detective fellow would soon get hold of a thing like that—he's coming out today. I put him up to hiring that old hack of Perry's; with any luck he'll break his blasted neck."

They had turned the corner of the lane now, and a quarter of a mile away down the straight Roman road could be seen the preliminary muster of the meet where the five ways met. Other riders were nearing them, and on an impulse Nancy leaned across and said, "Dale, would you tell

Shipley looked up quickly at her.

"What is it?"

"Lawson didn't bring you any—any bad news the other day at the cottage, did he?"

As on many other occasions in his life, Dale told a lie and the truth in one breath.

"Bad news?" he asked. "Why should he? He only came to see if I was suited with a horse."

Nancy knew her Dale better, it is possible, then her Dale knew himself. And somehow, she was not altogether happy.

GARFIELD COULD BOX

A book of sea-tales accidentally came to James A. Garfield. He was so impressed with life on the water that he sought to get a chance to ship on a Great Lakes vessel. Failing, he was satisfied with a job of driving a mule on the Ohio canal tow-path for a time.

Gov. Tod once told a story showing that Garfield had learned the ways of sailors in some way. One day when Garfield was at Sandusky and went aboard a freighter he was drawn into a fight with a sailor.

Garfield knocked out his larger opponent but when the captain called to him to step in and finish the sailor, Garfield could not do it. He extended his hand, the sailor shook it and they were friends.

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, July 4

A DAY of stirring events and memorable activities is read from the predominant planetary configurations. A sudden and surprising opening is apt to be at the source of a complete upheaval which may have a radical influence on the entire future life and its fortunes.

Those whose birthday it is are on the threshold of a very important year in which the entire future and fortunes depend upon wise decisions. There will be sudden opportunities calling for precipitate and radical action, but in all be calm and shun impetuosity and rashness.

A child born on this day may have an energetic and aggressive nature, with unusual talents and much originality. In his life, romance has an important part. Notable nativity: Calvin Coolidge, ex-president.

For Sunday, July 5

SUNDAY'S HOROSCOPE holds augeries of rather peculiar or confusing events, with the mind somewhat bewildered. Private affairs may have a tinge of the intriguing or subtle, and there may be mysterious situations.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter some stabilizing conditions, with real possessions and finances increasing during the year.

A child born on this day will be studious, ambitious and industrious but may have times of confusion or erratic judgments. His private life may be one of subtle or peculiar emotional adventures.

For Monday, July 6

MONDAY'S ASTROLOGICAL forecast is rather perplexing, with prospects of making good contracts or arrangements, particularly in connection with large enterprises, mergers, rings or secret bodies.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of good opportunities for renewal of contracts with important organizations, especially where connivance or secrecy may be factors.

A child born on this day may be talented and versatile but inclined to be restless, nervous and changeable. He will be fond of company and personally popular and friendly.

Notable nativity: John Paul Jones of the American navy.

BY HELEN ROWLAND

MISS SOLOMON SAYS—

Verily verily my daughter now is the dangerous season when the heart of a lamse is more impressionable than the asphalt in August.

Therefore I charge thee keep thy fingers crossed and go warily. For in the Garden of Love thou shalt meet Seven Deadly Bores and only the vigilant shall escape them.

Go to. As too much jam made up on the ball, as a loud perfume in a close room, as cheap wine in a fancy bottle, so is the Lothario who calleth himself a Great Lover. No woman escapeth his eye or avoideth his gallantries, for he is as a loose plank in the walk which lieth in wait for the unsuspecting. But the wise damsel giveth him much space, for she hath heard all his love tunes.

As stimulating as lukewarm coffee, as flattering as a cheap mirror, so is the Reformer who seeketh to improve a damsel's mind and revise her ways. He frowneth upon her levity and smileth not at her wit. Whatsoever she doth inspireth him only to sermons. He seeketh to shine in his own eyes by filling her with an inferiority complex.

As a loud radio in the restaurant, as a bumble-bee in the car, as a table next to the jazz band, so is a Wisecracker. For a little merriment enliveneth the spirit, but a continuous flow of smart cracks causeth great weariness.

As a Model T on a rough detour, as the waiter that spilleth the soup down the neck, as an elevator that stoppeth suddenly, so is the Caveman. He jarreth the nerves and treadeth upon the sensibilities. For what woman delighteth to be caressed like a punching bag and embraced like a foot ball?

As a new napkin to the lips, as too much pepper in the soup, as fire siren in the ears, so is a Hot Air Artist. He filleth the room like a loud-speaker and his ballyhoo is all of him. If alas! He beside him is as a continuous tete-a-tete with a riveting machine.

As a dull after-dinner speech, as a cheap hat in a hard rain, as last year's popular song, so is the Married Don Juan. He seeketh to pose as a heavy lover, yet he is only as a warmed-over rarebit, wherefrom all the snap hath departed, only to goo remaineth.

As vinegar to the teeth, as a grapefruit in the eye, as a Sophomore among Freshman, so is a Lowbrow that poseth as a Sophisticate. He looketh down from a great height and letteth fall pearls of wisdom. He seeketh to make thee feel wormlike. He is so cynical. The foolish damsel may be impressed but the wise damsel said Ho-hum.

Go to my Daughter. Heed my maxims and follow my precepts. For the land is full of charming lovers. And wherefore shouldst thou take unto thyself one of the Seven Deadly Bores?

Bruce Campbell Sets Pace As Cleveland Wins Two

TRIBE'S OUTFIELDER CHALKS UP 7 HITS AGAINST ST. LOUIS

Indians Now in Fourth Place; Red Sox Shoved Into Second Division.

By The Associated Press

Bruce Campbell is another athlete who's fooling the experts in a sports year already dizzy with such goings-on.

Thrice stricken with spinal meningitis and rated through as a ball player less than two months ago because of the dread disease the Cleveland Indian outfielder is making his third comeback from the illness one of his most impressive.

Up from his hospital bed only about three weeks he already has boosted his batting mark considerably. He is among the first 20 hitters in the American league.

If there was any lingering doubt about his recovery he took it apart yesterday. He teed off against St Louis Brown pitching for seven straight hits as the Tribe came through in both ends of a double header 14-6 and 4-2. Campbell hammered out a double and five singles in the opener then added another single his first time up in the nightcap after which he was removed for a rest.

The twin win pulled the Tribe up to fourth place in the league standings as the sinking Boston Red Sox sank out of the first division into fifth place by losing their fourth straight to the Yankees 8-7 for their seventh setback in a row. The Tigers held onto second place by belting the White Sox 7-1 behind Schoolboy Rowe's seven-hit pitching and the Senators took over sole possession of third place with a 4-3 edge over the Athletics.

In the National league the Cardinals held onto their slim half-game first place edge by nosing out the Pirates 4-2 with Dizzy Dean chalking up his 11th win of the season while the second place Cubs were outlasting the Cincinnati Reds 8-6 in 18 innings. The Giants climbed back into the first division through the Reds setback and their own close finish 7-6 over the Boston Bees while the Phillies finally got some pitching—Bucky Walter turning in a four-hit performance—and shut out the Dodgers 5-0.

Keytown Campers Trim Fairfield; Contests Booked for Tonight

The Keytown Campers scored an 8 to 5 victory over the Fairfield entry in the Commercial league in the only twilight contest completed last night. Other games were halted in early innings by rain. The Campers victory over Fairfield moved the squad into a tie with the Marion Merchants for third place in the standings with both clubs holding a .500 average.

The Campers scored four runs in the opening inning and held a lead throughout the game. Last clouted a home run, Almendinger tripled and K. Somerlot and Robinson doubled to account for the Campers extra-base hits off Maury Whitcum's offerings. Biddy Fairfield center fielder connected for a double, the only extra-base hit in nine bingles the squad collected off Coxy Weiss. Games set for last night in the Commercial league marked the second round of league competition with the Huber entry the only team undefeated.

Tonight's games bring together teams of the Intermediate league in twilight encounters. Two previously unbeaten teams will meet when Lutheran and Trinity clash at the President's field. Wesley also undefeated will meet the Children's Home entry on the Marion Steam Shovel athletic field and Forest Lawn and Lee Street will clash at Lincoln park. All Intermediate contests are to begin at 6:15 o'clock.

In an All Star night league game Gasco will oppose the Axe Funeral team at 8:30 at Lincoln park. With the Gasco club now in a first place tie with Moores & Ross both having won two of three games a victory tonight for the hard slugging Gasco outfit would mean at least temporary leadership of the loop. The Axe Funeral squad broke even in two games and is in a tie for third place with the Marion Steam Shovel team.

Three games in the Sunday school league No. 1 halted by rain last week will be played next Wednesday. It was announced today by Elmer Shaw, secretary of the softball commission. The games are Lee Street vs. Presbyterian at Marion Steam Shovel athletic field, Epworth No. 1 vs. St. Marys at Garfield park, Trinity Baptist vs. Reformed at the President's field.

Team managers in the two Sunday school loops were reminded today by Secretary Shaw that eligibility lists covering the attendance of players during June must be on file at the Y. M. C. A. before teams participate in games set for next week.

The score by innings of last night's game follows:

		R	H	E
Fairfield	102 020 0—	5	9	4
Keytown Camp	100 301 *—	8	7	0

Whitcum and Corbin; Weiss and C. Seiter.

RED BIRDS DIVIDE DOUBLE BILL WITH LOUISVILLE SQUAD

St Paul Beats Brewers 4-1, To Cut Milwaukee's Lead to One Game

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 3—This looks like the big year of his pitching career for the veteran Lou Fette of the St Paul Saints.

Fette only won 10 games last season while losing 17 and in 1934 he won 11, while losing 14. Yesterday he won his 15th game of the 1936 American Association campaign against four losses. He will head the pitching staff which Manager Donie Bush will send against the Milwaukee Brewers in the circuit's third annual all-star game at Milwaukee July 10.

Fette handed the pace-setting Brewers a 4 to 1 defeat which reduced Milwaukee's lead over the Saints to one game. Manager Gabby Street's scrappy crew collected 14 hits.

Wiley Moore did some effective relief pitching to help Kansas City to beat Minneapolis 4 to 3. He held the Millers in check from the seventh until the tenth when Breese drove the winning run in with a long hit to left.

Louisville snapped its losing streak by beating Columbus 8 to 4 in the second game of a double bill after the Red Birds had won the opener 9 to 8 in 13 innings with Mike Ryba winning the extra inning victory. In the second game Jack Winsett hit his thirty third homer of the season.

In the first game of a night doubleheader Toledo shut out Indianapolis 5 to 0 behind Boone's eight hit pitching. The Indians won the second 6 to 4.

Cincinnati To Celebrate Reds' 50th Birthday

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., July 3—Cincinnati birthplace of professional baseball decided today to shut up shop on July 9 and help the Reds celebrate their 50th anniversary as members of the National league.

Mayor Russell Wilson proclaimed the date an official holiday mentioning in his proclamation that this was the league's 60th birthday, the Reds 50th and that back in 1869 the famous Cincinnati Red Stockings took on and conquered all comers.

As part of the celebration and a prelude to the Reds regulation modern contest with the Boston Bees fans will witness a game in the spirit of '76—meaning 1876 when the league was founded.

Two selected teams whose members have been busy cultivating the mustaches and sideburns of the past era will play under the old rules without gloves and wearing the costumes of 60 years ago.

A dinner for all former Cincinnati baseball players also is on the program. A special old timers committee is at work seeking to contact as many one time stars as possible. One who already has signified his intentions of attending is Samuel Geary, now 86, who played with the Red Stockings in their first year 1869.

GREYS STRENGTHEN LEAD

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 3—Both Zanesville and Canton won their games last night but the Greys victory was a heavy blow to the Terriers hopes of winning the Mid Atlantic league first half. The two teams remained three and a half games apart with but five to play. Canton must win the rest of its games and Zanesville lose at least four if the fighting Terriers newcomers to the league this year get to the top.

Voigt Jiggers Short Shots With His Faithful Old Iron

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK—An aged, unkempt jigger that swings on a warped wood shaft occupies a place of honor among the other wise shiny golf tools carried by Walker Cupper George Voigt of New York.

Voigt can't remember just when or where he acquired this pet approach iron that has the loft of a No. 4. He thinks it was down in Washington 10 or a dozen years ago.

But he never plays a round of golf without it and he hauls out "Old Faithful" just about every time he's faced with a chip from 10 to 20 yards from the cup.

"I carry the old jigger because I know the feel of it. Over in England especially, at St. Andrews, it was indispensable and I've used it a lot in the south too," he says.

Many times the rusty relic has sent the ball straight to the cup from off the green but never in any of the Walker cup matches this veteran member of the U. S. team has played.

"My pet approach club is just the thing for those little chip shots," says Voigt. "I don't use it for any other purpose—none of the medium iron shots it might be suitable for if it had a more substantial shaft."

Although Voigt admits he would be lost without the jigger he never gives it any special attention. It doesn't go to the buffer with its shiny mates and its original shaft is as crooked as an Irishman's shillalah.

A nondescript jigger is the favorite golf club carried by George Voigt of New York veteran member of the Walker cup team.

BEN WHITE SWEEPS $4,060 TROT EVENT

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 3—Grand Circuit followers turned their attention to the Matron event at North Randall track today following Ben F. White's sweep of the $4,060 Matron three-year-old trotting event yesterday.

Tonight three-year-old pacers headed by Gibson White's Jack Orr driven by White's father Ben were entered in today's $1,350 feature. The field includes Silverdale, Lila Biarrity, Earl's Mariann and Harkaway.

White drove Rosalind queen of last year's two-year-old trotters to first place in all three miles to justify her rank as favorite for the $35,000 Hambletonian to be raced next month at Goshen, N. Y. Rosalind owned by Ben's 20-year-old son Gibson completed her trips in 2:06 2-5, 2:05 and 2:04 2-5.

Calumet Evelyn holder of the world double-gaited championship easily won all three heats of the 1,000 H. K. Devereaux-P. W. Harvey memorial event in her debut as a big line trotter. She finished with speed to spare in 2:03 2-5, 2:02 and 2:05 with Vic Fleming, the Canadian horseman, handling the reins.

FOUR O. S. U. TRACK STARS ENTER MEET

COLUMBUS, O., July 3—Coach Larry Snyder of Ohio State university's track team was en route to Princeton's Palmer stadium by automobile today with four members of the Buckeye squad who will participate in the final A. A. U. Olympic qualifier in New Jersey for the games in Berlin. The athletes are Jesse Owens, Negro captain of the Buckeye squad; Dave Albritton and Mel Walker, Negro high jumpers and Charles Beetham, outstanding half miler. Owens will participate in the 100 and 200-meter dashes and the broad jump. Snyder predicted all four would land among the qualifiers.

JOBLESS TOTAL AT 11 MILLIONS

A. F. of L. Issues Estimate After Miss Perkins Questions New York Sun Figures.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 3 — The American Federation of Labor yesterday dropped a May unemployment estimate of 11,259,000 into a new outbreak of the perennial dispute over the number of jobless.

A few hours earlier Secretary Perkins told her press conference that the figures used in a New York Sun estimate were "inadequate."

At the same time, Miss Perkins said that 30,948,000 persons were engaged in nonagricultural work in May, compared with 35,975,000 in May, 1929, and 26,312,000 in May, 1933. Another 12,000,000 were working on farms last May, she said, while still another 3,230,000 had jobs on emergency federal projects.

Not Reliable

Miss Perkins said unemployment estimates were unreliable for many reasons, among them being the lack of an accepted definition for unemployment and the general difficulty of counting negatives. She said:

"Is John Jones, an out-of-work carpenter now working on a truck farm, an unemployed carpenter or an employed farmer? He'd go back to his hammer and saw if he could, but he's earning a living on the farm."

The A. F. of L. estimated that 1,535,000 persons found jobs between January and May this year, and 6,300,000 between March, 1933, and May, 1936. Since the bottom of the depression, however, the number available for work had increased by 1,900,000, the federation said, including those leaving school and reaching working age.

Major Rise Needed

"At the present rate of re-employment, industrial activity will have to rise far beyond 1929 levels to put the unemployed to work," the labor survey added, after stating that business activity in May was only 5.7 per cent below normal.

Manufacturing industries, Miss Perkins said, were employing 1,570,000 fewer persons in May, 1936, than in May, 1929. Some, she said, employed more. She listed them as rayon yarns, industrial chemicals, wirework, stamped and enameled ware, clocks and watches, leather, soap and beverages.

The New York Sun, she said, received reports in the main from the larger and more successful business organizations, failed to account for those firms which had gone out of business during the depression and gave "inadequate coverage" to a number of industries.

DEMOCRATS ACCUSED OF STEALING PLANKS

Hamilton Claims Monopoly and Civil Service Stands Are Alike.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 3 — Modelers of the 1936 Democratic platform today faced the accusation by John D. M. Hamilton, Republican national chairman, that some of their planks were plagiarized from the Republicans.

He declared, at a dinner given last night by the Illinois Republican finance committee, that Democratic pronouncements of opposition to monopoly, plans to balance the budget and promise to uphold the civil service system were made with an eye to the platform previously adopted at the rival nominating convention.

"Hardly was the ink dry on the anti-monopoly plank of the Republican platform when Mr. Roosevelt suddenly deplored the evils of monopoly and added our pledge on this issue to his own platform," said Hamilton.

"Hardly was the ink dry on the civil service plan when Mr. Roosevelt again followed our lead, to the astonishment of the nation which is well aware of his record on civil service. After reading the Cleveland platform, Mr. Roosevelt decided once more to promise a balanced budget."

TWO APARTMENTS LOOTED BY THIEF

Duplex on Bain Avenue Entered While Occupants Are Absent.

A burglar entered a duplex apartment at 225 Bain avenue, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Carl McDaniel, and Miss Pauline and Miss Irma Reigert, yesterday between 8 and 10:30 a. m. and escaped undetected with a loot of $7. No one was at home at the time and the burglary was discovered when Mrs. McDaniel returned from an uptown shopping tour at 10:30.

Entrance to the building was gained by removing a screen over an open window at the rear of the building. The first floor rooms, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel, were ransacked but nothing was reported missing. From the first floor the burglars were able to gain access to an outside stairway leading to the second floor apartment.

The money was taken from a dressing table in a bedroom of the Reigert apartment. When Mrs. McDaniel discovered her apartment had been entered she called police who conducted an investigation but said they were unable to discover any clues. Mrs. McDaniel reported that last Friday $9 was missing from her home, but at that time she thought that it had been mislaid.

BALDWIN EXPECTED TO RESIGN IN AUGUST

His Statement to Contrary Fails To Halt Rumors That He'll Quit Shortly.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 3—Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin's firm statement—"I will retire when I think fit"—failed today to halt parliamentary rumors he will resign next month.

Friends of the prime minister believed he would, after further consideration, step out of office when parliament adjourns about August 1.

Baldwin continued his aggressive defense of the government's policies, started yesterday on his return to London from the country, before a Conservative association dinner.

Great Britain, he said, joined the rearmament race with other European nations because adherence to future League of Nations obligations "will very probable bring war in its train."

COUNCIL IN DETROIT PROBES BLACK LEGION

Three More Nabbed in Alleged Plot To Kill Newspaper Editor.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, July 3 — A city council meeting in suburban Highland Park brought a new tangle of Black legion accusations today a few hours after three additional men were arrested and charged with 12 others in an alleged plot to kill the editor of a weekly newspaper for political reasons.

The council met to consider charges of Black legion membership against Elwood Sparling, police and fire commissioner. Before it adjourned early today until Monday night after receiving conflicting testimony from four witnesses, its members had heard:

Arlington Jones, public works employe, name Councilman R. Stanley Wilson as a member of the night-riding organization who held a gun against him as Jones was initiated into a "bullet club."

Harvey Stonehouse, fellow worker of Jones, testified he saw both Wilson and Sparling in the hooded robes of the secret terrorist order.

Another witness declared neither Sprling nor Wilson was present at the meeting described by Jones and Stonehouse.

Jones told the council the meeting was held at the home of John Godwin, suspended Highland Park patrolman, and that one of those present was N. Ray Markland then mayor of the suburb.

Godwin was one of three men arrested yesterday on a John Doe warrant charging conspiracy to murder Arthur L. Kingsley, publisher of a Highland Park newspaper who had opposed Markland editorially. Markland already has been held for trial in similar charges.

MOTOR SHARES LEAD ADVANCE

Rails Also Active as Better Than Normal Rise in Freight Traffic Is Reported.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 3 — Motor shares, strengthened by a more-than-seasonal rise in production as noted in weekly trade reports, found an active following at rising prices in the stock market today.

Near the fourth hour rails conquered early diffidence and many added substantial fractions as a better than normal rise in freight traffic was reported. The Associated Press index of loadings, seasonally adjusted, was the best since August, 1931.

Shares which added fractions to 3 points or so included du Pont, Johns Manville, Chrysler, General Motors, Briggs, Western Union, Chesapeake & Ohio, Pennsylvania, Norfolk & Western, U. S. Steel and Bethlehem.

New highs for a year or more were recorded for preferred issues of Electric Power & Light, Public Service of New Jersey, and Standard Gas. Farm implement shares, including Case, International Harvester and Deere, were moderately higher.

Bonds were quiet, as were foreign currencies. Grains and cotton were inclined to back up under profit taking. Call money renewed at one per cent.

Week-end reviews noted that retail sales in some divisions made the best showing in more than a month.

Although the retail volume for the country as a whole was placed at 12 to 15 per cent over that of a year ago, it was found that some industries were beginning to show signs of seasonal let-downs.

In initial foreign exchange transactions the French franc was .00⅛ of a cent lower at 6.62⅞ cents, and sterling was ⅛ of a cent firmer at $5.02¼.

WHEAT PRICES RALLY BUT FAIL TO HOLD

Report of Drouth's Spread to Canada Brings Boost; Close Irregular.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 3—Responding to late jumps of nearly 5 cents a bushel in Winnipeg quotations, Chicago wheat prices rallied more than 3¾ cents today from preceding setbacks. The upturn in Chicago, however, failed to hold.

Reports of acutely increasing need of rains to relieve drouth dangers in Canada were reported as largely responsible for renewal of bulging prices. Anxiety was also manifested concerning Canadian forecasts pointing to hot weather perils.

Wheat closed irregular, 1 cent lower to ⅛ higher compared with yesterday's finish, July 1.00⅞@1.01, Sept. 1.01⅜@½, corn 1⅛ down to ¼ up, Sept. 71¼@⅜, Dec. 66⅜@½, oats at ⅛@¼ decline, and provisions unchanged to 7 cents off.
